FOREWORD

IN the 1930 TATTER, we have endeavored to portray those interests, events, and associations which inspired our loyalty as members of the Stevens Point High School.

In the years to come we hope you will look back to the '30 TATTER and will appreciate more fully the careful piloting of the student body by the members of the faculty.

If this should come to pass, then the XII Volume of the TATTER will have fulfilled its mission.

The First Commencement

THE class of 1881, the first class to graduate, extends greetings to the class of 1930, the fiftieth class to graduate from the Stevens Point High School.

Incidental to the celebration of the graduation of this fiftieth class there comes to mind a flood of memories of the graduation of that first class on July 2, 1881. In more ways than one it was a momentous occasion in the history of the High School. It was the first in the long train of successive happy occasions which have brought into the Alumni of the High School upwards of two thousand promising young men and women, most of whom have gone onward and upward in the affairs of the world, making good the fulfillment of the success in life expected of them.

In the earlier years students entering High School studied on indefinitely until they felt other duties were more imperative than school work. It was not until the school year of 1889-90 under the direction of Supt. Frank L. Green that plans were discussed for formal graduation. In 1881 the first class of nine students completed the course of study satisfactorily to the board of education and superintendent and was scheduled to graduate on Saturday evening, July 2.

Although nearly fifty years have elapsed since this little class of nine occupied the spotlight of this first commencement, the events of the days of preparation and the grand finale come to mind as if they had occurred but yesterday. Unlike the arrangements of today it was necessary to deliver an original oration or essay. This took weeks of strenuous work at that time. In those days the High School had but two instructors, the principal and one assistant, and let me say right here it was our good fortune to be under the leadership and kindly direction of one of the best of principals, Frank L. Green, and his able assistant, Miss Jennie Ferris, who is now Mrs. Emmons Burr of this city.

FIRST HIGH SCHOOL

The exercises were held in McCulloch's Hall on the second floor of the present McCulloch store building with a wide entrance on Main Street where the book department now is. This was the "Grand Opera" house for Stevens Point at that time and the location of all the top-notch entertainments. It had a small but real stage and was lighted more or less brilliantly with large chandeliers of kerosene lamps. The stage effects were illuminated with kerosene foot-lights. There were no gas or electric lights in Stevens Point at that time.

As the class of 1881 knew nothing of class plays, class day exercises, Junior Proms, nor the many other activities incidental to modern commencement, all interest was centered in the one festive day. Examinations over and our orations and essays judged satisfactory, we turned our attention to the other incidents. Early Saturday morning everyone was up and stirring. As there were no greenhouses from which to get flowers and plants for decorations we set about gathering both wild and garden flowers. Harry-grass, a white lawn flower, very common here at that time, was made the principal feature relieved by a little color from more brilliant cultivated flowers and potted plants.

As we gathered at the Hall, full of enthusiasm over the day's doings, we were almost thrown into a panic by the announcement of the assassination of President Garfield which was flashed over the wires that morning. It was the most tragic event since the Civil War and death of Lincoln and local excitement was intense. This news made it necessary for several members of the class to alter the text of their orations at the last moment.

FRANK GREEN

JENNIE FERRIS

Everything in readiness, at 8 P. M., the graduates filed out to take their places on the stage surrounded by members of the Board of Education and teachers. Admission to the hall was free and without reservation and as a result all the available space was immediately taxed to the utmost. It was a hot night even for July and the hall was soon about as comfortable as a bake oven.

We each poured our literary productions to an attentive and appreciative audience and were presented with our diplomas which were to serve as passports into the greater world about us. At the close of the program, the class repaired to Pipe's Restaurant, then located at the corner of Clark and Third Streets where the Chevrolet garage is now located, for the first Alumni Banquet.

Of this class of nine, four members have answered the final summons, three members are living elsewhere and two are at present located in Stevens Point.

A TRIBUTE TO MR. FRANK GREEN AND MISS FERRIS

Much recognition must be given to Frank Green who, acting in the capacity of both principal and superintendent, was instrumental in organizing the high school in Stevens Point on a recognized basis. Mr. Green was assisted by the capable Miss Jennie Ferris, now Mrs. Emmons Burr of this city, who was the first instructor. Members of the first school owe a good deal to the guidance and tutorship of Mr. Green and Miss Ferris who earnestly strove to place our school high among state circles and make it an accredited institution. Every Pointer should feel indebted to these two for the beginning of this magnificent establishment.

The First Graduating Class

THE high school was started in 1876 and the first class was graduated July 2, 1881. The high school building in 1880 was a new and substantial brick structure centrally located on Clark Street and surrounded by ample school grounds. The building contained accommodation for the High School, Grammar School, One Intermediate, and One Primary with adjoining recitation rooms.

An excellent reference library with 173 books was open at all times of the day in the high school.

The course of study was drawn up with a double purpose of giving a sound business education and affording a thorough preparation for the University.

After the exercises the class went to Pipe's Restaurant on Clark Street and had supper. ## The Board of Education

Of course no airplane is complete without its mechanics and groundmen. Neither is a high school complete without its Board of Education. This is a group to which we owe much. Our buildings are kept warm and in good condition through the efforts and supervision of our board members. They are also responsible for our splendid new building and are ever trying to improve the conditions in our school. New conveniences are being added to make school life a more pleasant one each year. The appearance of our school is being improved. When the students came back to school in September they found a building in "tip-toe" shape and in perfect cleanliness. This is indeed a school which we may be proud of.

Our School board members also deserve our praise for their choice of an efficient superintendent, principal, assistant principal, and faculty. Their wise guidance in all things is always present. We are permitted to enjoy all of the best educational entertainments, class parties, and Junior Proms, all of which are either directly or indirectly supervised and controlled with great success by our board.

With such an efficient yet indulgent force to keep the general mechanism of this institution running smoothly, Stevens Point High School will soon outshine all other schools.

Paul M. Vincent, Superintendent

MR. VINCENT received the position of Superintendent of Stevens Point Public Schools in 1923, after having served in the capacity of principal of our high school. Therefore, when we entered dear old S. P. H., we found ourselves a part of a well managed institution in which we eagerly anticipated four pleasant years.

Now when we have come to the end of our high school course, we wish to take this occasion to express our sincere appreciation for the efforts and results obtained by Mr. Vincent and his assistants in the directing of our affairs in such a tactful and pleasant manner as to receive the whole hearted approval of the student body as well as the higher authorities.

Superintendent Vincent has shown keen interest in the athletics and outside activities of our school as well as the regular high school curriculum. He is continually doing everything in his power to further interest in educational activities and to increase facilities for the promotion of higher intellectual standards of the students in Stevens Point. This interest is especially evident at present in consideration of the new unit which Mr. Vincent is trying to obtain for our High School to make it even a bigger and better establishment than it already is.

Therefore we, the class of 1930, can safely predict the continued progress of our school system with Mr. Vincent as its unsurpassable navigator.

Joseph F. Kraus, Principal

OUR principal, Mr. Kraus, has been a most successful pilot of our educational ship, the Stevens Point High School, for the last two years, having entered that position in the fall of 1928. Mr. Kraus' first experience with the students in our High School was as a member of the faculty, acting as a general science instructor. During the entire time that he was acting in the capacity of a teacher in our High School, Mr. Kraus had always taken an active part in various lines of activities, principally in athletics and a thrift work. He was one of the very enthusiastic organizers of the boys' boxing and wrestling classes which have been functioning under his direction up to the present time.

It was with this interest in our High School activities and with this attitude of enthusiastic efficiency that Mr. Kraus started his new work in 1928. His chief aim has been, and is, to raise our High School up to the highest possible standards, a feat which is being speedily accomplished. His generous and sympathetic nature has made him a friend of all of the students. He is always cheerfully willing to face, and trying to solve, through his own efforts and his kind advice, the problems of the students whose interests he always has at heart.

In appreciation of his kindness to us, we the Class of 1930, wish at this time, to thank Mr. Kraus and extend to him our congratulations and sincere good wishes for the future.

Ben A. Held, Vice Principal

MR. HELD, as our assistant pilot, has achieved great success in his new work which he began when school opened in September, 1929. Prior to his receiving this promotion, Mr. Held was a member of our High School faculty for two years. He was an instructor of History, Junior English, and the Social Sciences, namely, Economics and Social Problems.

In addition to teaching the latter two subjects this year, Mr. Held assumed his other numerous duties as Vice Principal, all of which he performed very capably. Among his other achievements, Mr. Held has been instrumental in incorporating a new system for the reduction of tardiness and truancy which has proved most effective.

All of these things deserve our praise but perhaps the most important of Mr. Held's accomplishments, outside of his regular High School duties is his work and kind co-operation with the Senior Class to make our year book a success.

Mr. Held's services to the School have not extended in these directions only, for under his general management, and with the aid of several other faculty advisers, a most successful faculty play was presented as a benefit for our Tattler.

We, the Class of 1930, sincerely appreciate Mr. Held's kindness and wish to congratulate him on his success in his new position and extend our best wishes for his future.

Our Beacon Lights

(The Faculty)

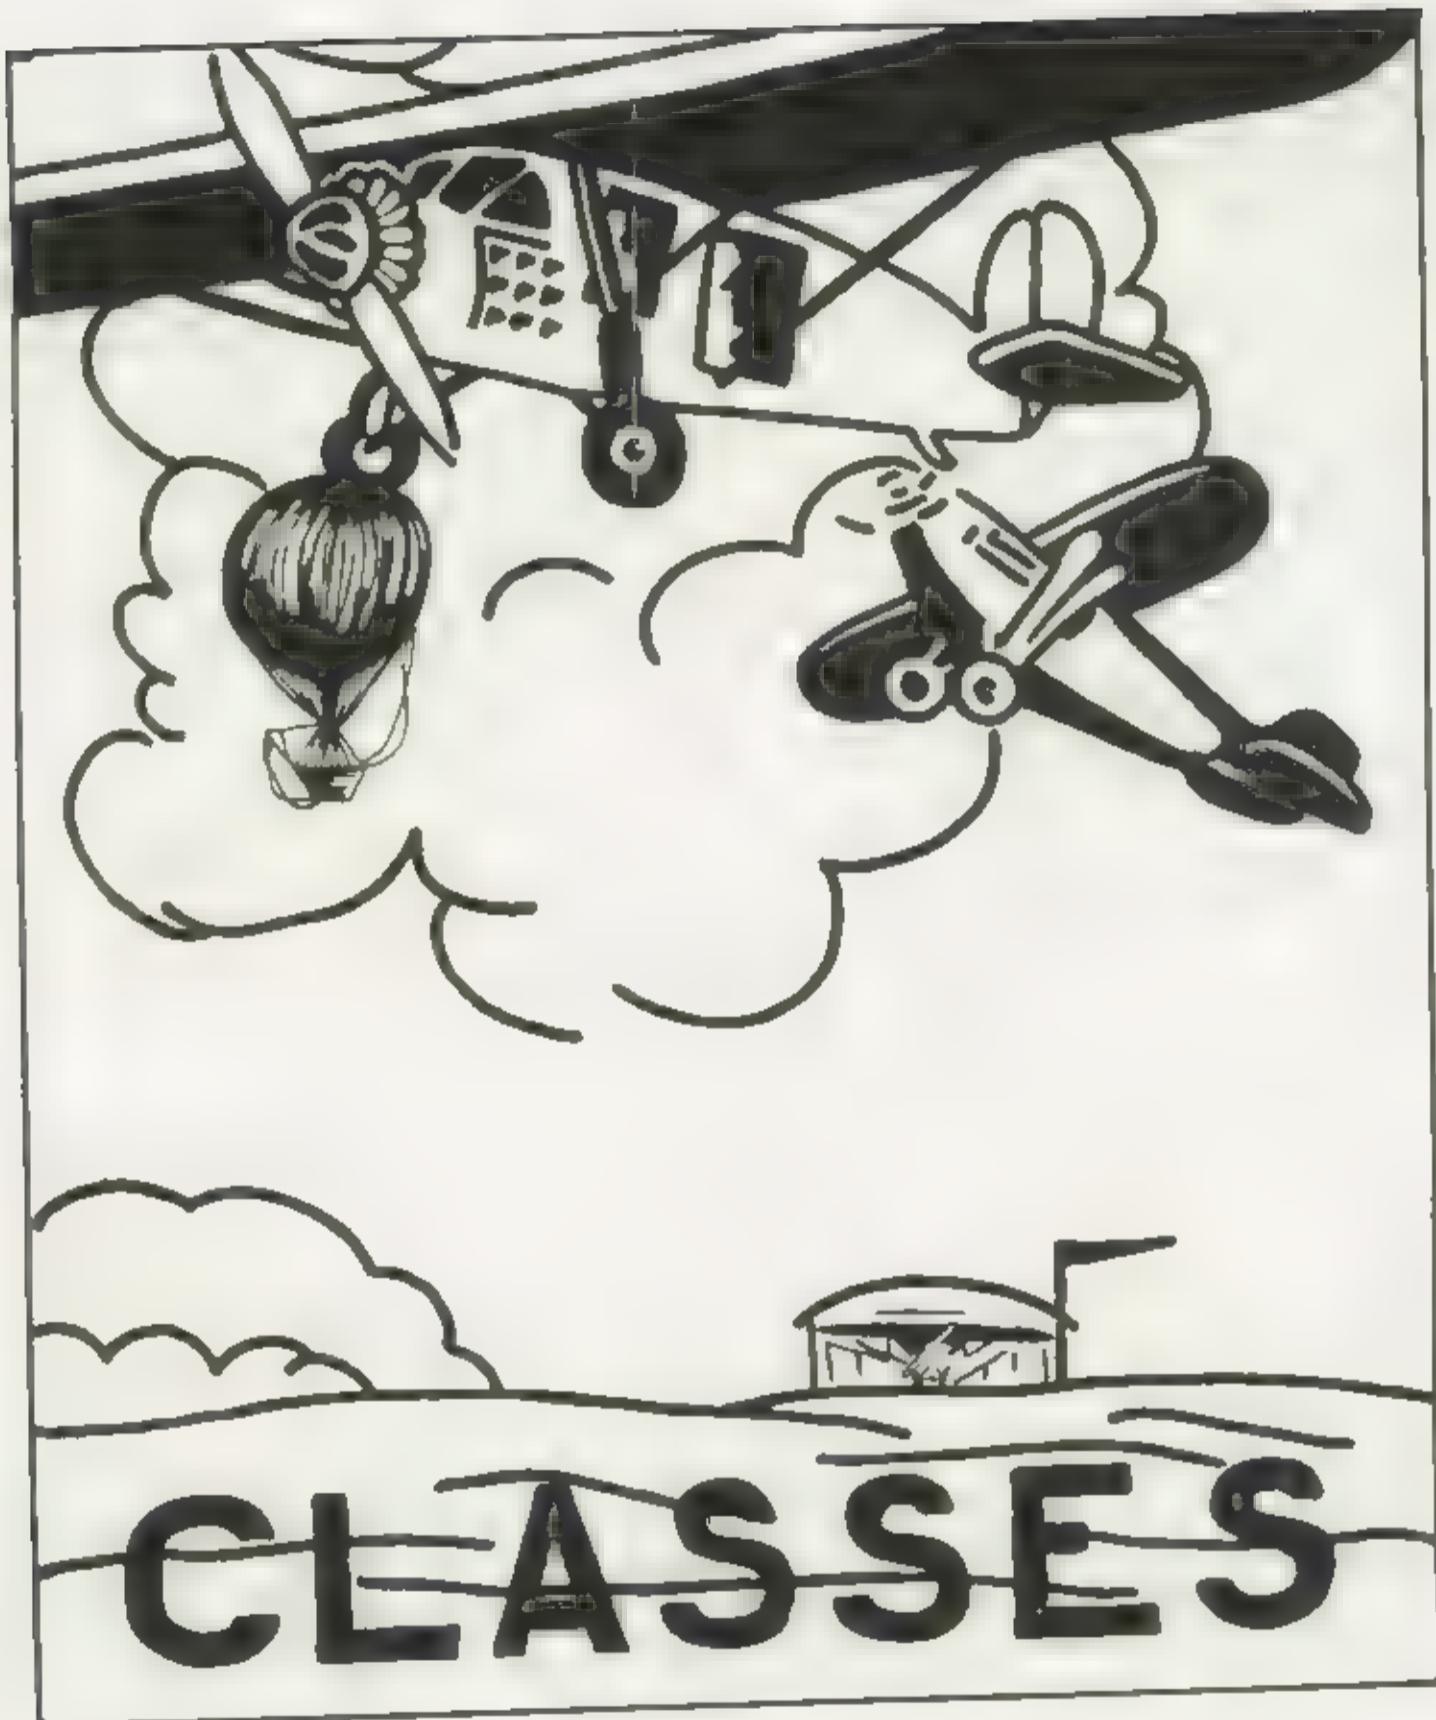

WHEN we first entered Stevens Point High School we were confronted by a strong, new force of educational lights who were to try to instill in our minds further knowledge with which we could go out into the world to our work or continue our studies profitably.

Although each year some of our teachers leave, they are always replaced by others equal or greater in power and ability. We are not only fortunate in always having had a faculty with an excellent mental capacity but one willing at any time to give any extended to any student desiring such. Altogether we consider them a super group with their seemingly unlimited patience and understanding.

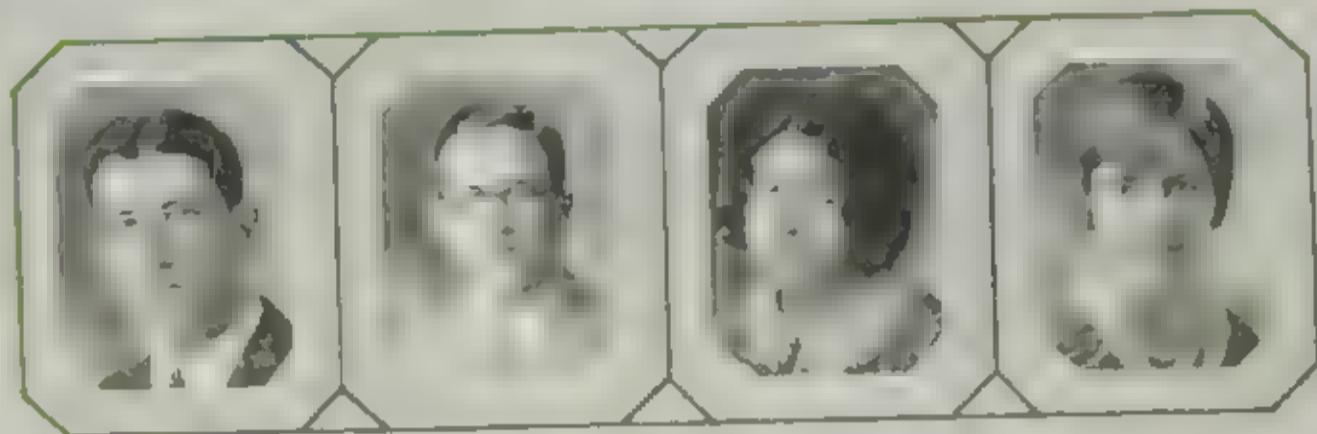

Our faculty has not only proved itself in the classroom, but has been instrumental in giving us our pleasant social gatherings in our clubs and other outside activities. These organizations owe their pep and success not only to the spirit of the students, but also to the various faculty advisors whose ingenuity and co-operation have made these many movements and parties possible.

The faculty play which is solely a faculty affair has always been one of the highlights of the school years. This not only gives the students a new slant on their superiors but also affords much amusement for both the faculty members participating in the event and the large crowds which always witness these super-productions. Thus the faculty again does a great service for our school, for without this play as a financial resource our year book would never be the success which it always has been.

Therefore the Class of 1930 wishes to take this opportunity to express its hearty appreciation to the faculty as a whole for its successful efforts towards making our high school life an enjoyable one.

Class History

JAMES TURRISH	-	-	-	-	-	President
WILLIAM CLAUSEN	-	-	-	-	-	Vice-President
JEAN BOYINGTON	-	-	-	-	-	Secretary
HELEN KITOWSKI	-	-	-	-	-	Treasurer

THE Class of 1930 started with one of the largest Freshman enrolments in the history of Emerson High School. Shortly after the opening of school the class was organized with Wilson Schwahn as president.

Very studious was this class of '30 as well as athletic, for from the first it led the honor roll in the percentage of members receiving high grades.

A pleasing feature of the Freshman year was the party given for the Sophomores soon after the Christmas Holidays.

The next year, the Class of '30 chose as their leaders Weldon Leahy as President, Florence Glennon as Vice-President, and Bernice Altenburg as secretary and treasurer.

They still retained a large number on the honor roll. As Sophomores the class accomplished much in the line of athletics. Honors were also added to the class by one of its members who won first place in the school declimatory contest. Their hard time party gave the sophs no small amount of social recognition.

The next year, the class of '30 made a running start. The class elected Eugene Kyllo president, Lois Richards vice president, Jean Boyington secretary, and John Morat treasurer.

The excellent scholarship of this class as Juniors was brought out by the fact that one of its members received the highest average ever attained in the history of the school. Girls and boys both took a prominent part in athletics.

And then the "Junior Prom". Who ever could forget those beautiful scenes of an old-fashioned garden. The Juniors believed it to be the best prom ever held in the school.

At last we became Seniors. After four years of splendid cooperation the class of '30 was gratified as the largest Senior class in the history of the school. The class was helped to finish this career through the leadership of a capable president, James Turrish, assisted by William Clausen, Jean Boyington and Helen Kitowski.

The class, girls as well as boys, ranked high in athletics, school work and extra curricular activities. The debate team consisting almost entirely of Seniors, made a fine showing. A party given by the Seniors was one of the most important social events of the year.

Last Will and Testament of the Class of 1930

FOR the benefit of those who are not able to fully appreciate the outstanding capabilities and indubitable knowledge with which we depart from this institution of unsurpassed instructions, we are presenting those less fortunate than ourselves with those faculties that go to make up men and women, being assigned to the greater tasks in life.

ARTICLE I.

SECTION 1. First we, the Class of 1930, do hereby present to our inferiors, the liberties which we took at random.

SECTION 2. To the Janitors and those who are earnestly concerned, we leave our everlasting gratitude for picking up articles which were at our disposal in the auditorium.

ARTICLE II.

TO THE FACULTY. We leave all our fears of failures and red marks, knowing that "All things work together for the good of those lucky enough to get them."

TO MR. KRAUS. The auditorium in perfect order in addition to all the hardware which holds the seats together.

TO MR. HELD. A better system of clock-winding and a cure for sleeping sickness for those who should need it.

TO MR. VINCENT. Congratulations on his sunny view of life.

TO MISS SCHMIDT. Our regrets that the "sun" does not cast its direct "Ray" in this vicinity.

TO MISS KUJAWA. Our sincerest regards for her future.

ARTICLE III.

TO THE JUNIORS. The spade—and a little more territory in which to dig for those "things worth while in life."

TO THE SOPHOMORES. Our awe of the library in which knowledge is so hard to secure.

TO THE FRESHMEN. The "Tree of Knowledge" where only "green things grow."

ARTICLE IV.

- 1 To Ted and Margaret.—Jack and Jean's latest knowledge of "Hearts and Harmony."
- 2 To whom who it may concern—a few more possibilities in good salesmanship.
- 3 To Claude Kitowski.—William Clausen's composure.
- 4 To Jane Anderson.—Don Krembs' best wishes.
- 5 To the Band.—A little more vigor.
- 6 To Clarence Konopacki.—Clarence Brooks' charming secret of winning hearts over the radio.
- 7 To Regina Schwebke.—Mildred Powers' interest in literature or mails.—(Males).
- 8 In Mary Margaret Calvert's heart, we leave a soft spot.
- 9 To Madeline Siebert.—Henrietta Fountaine's grace.
- 10 To anyone ambitious enough to look for it.—The willingness to take all the knocks which we have accepted without complaint.

In witness whereof we, the Class of 1930, do hereby set our hand and seal, this 12th day of June, in the year of our Lord, one thousand-nine-hundred and thirty.

JAMES TURRISH

Class Prophecy

Dear Miss Glennon:

Gee, this life in California is not what it's cracked up to be. In fact it got so boresome that my sister Jean and I decided that we'd take a trip back to the old place in Stevens Point where she and I used to go to school. Of course, when you part from friends, you never know when and where you will meet them again or why. So our object was to see just exactly what ten years had brought to our classmates.

Our first stop was at Denver, Colorado, where Bernice Altenburg is a school teacher. She gave up the idea of high school librarian, after experiencing the irresistible nature of high school students. I suppose you didn't know that Herman Ash and Douglas Robertson were moving picture directors in Hollywood? Well, they are, and have informed me that they are especially interested in the scenery there. They just sit back and have a lot of fun and when they can no longer bear the suspense, they give orders for the next scene, which is the one where the chorus girls do their little act. (Some scenery). Georgiana Atwell and Edna Crocker are playing up to Flo Ziegfeld. Remember "They Hinkered for Hollywood"? Our Valedictorian, Ethel Bierwaldt has been rewarded for her labors and is the Dean of Women at the Stevens Point Central State Teachers' College. And say, remember that guy that used to run around with Alfred Zer? Walter Baker? Well, he's the world's champion boxer, while Ernest Beckett is the world's champion wrestler. Ain't that sump'n? Emma Becker has taken up dress-making in Paris, and has found that the art is a very fascinating one. Hazel Behnke is demonstrating model at one of the shops in Whiting. And imagine! Marie Bethe is married to Bill Herrick, who is teaching Bill, Jr how to play basketball, and giving little Marie the fundamentals of the sport. Kathryn Blavat is teaching at the Grant School in Stevens Point and Donald Blood is band leader at Iola. He sure is doing his stuff. Bonita Blumenstein is giving debates over the radio, against Pa Henderson (who is still against the chain stores), with Charlotte Cannen and Mie Paukert preparing her competitive speeches. When Jean Bovington and Eugene Kyllo were last seen and heard from they were on the South Sea Islands, admiring the sunsets. Our friend from Mississippi, Loretta Bruback, is a candidate for the talking pictures because of the melodic smoothness of her voice. Benzie Brezinski is running a brewery in Plover, while Gladys Brock has been offered an immense salary for testing scales for the Dayton Scale Company. Honest weight! No springs! Clarence Brooks is in Egypt, very much engrossed in fossil remains, as he is an archeologist. Lydia Cizek is a social reform worker in New York, a kind of a Jane Addams, you know. William Clausen is running a hot-dog stand in company with Lyman Schwartz and Jim Turrish. They are training for the big league games. Evelyn Cooper (the little girl with the attractive dimples) has just won a bathing beauty contest at Tampa, Florida. Harold Coulthurst and Charles Gates have undertaken an Agricultural and Experimental farm outside of McDill. And eee-e-magine! Dr. Wendel Crosby married Margaret Donermeyer, who was his head nurse at the Hospital in Milwaukee. Alice Dorsha and Donald Duggan are married and taking up headquarters in Dublin, Ireland, while Vilas Glodowski and Warren Sprague are stunt men for moving pictures. Dorothy Dumbleton and Ruth Eder are nurse specialists in Berlin, Germany, under Dr. Walter Okrav who successfully operated on U. S. President John Murat, who was stricken with an attack of appendicitis while on a peace tour in Germany. Elizabeth Ell and Luella Esker are spinsters who are raising parrots and cats and are contemplating moving to Japan to raise tea. Evelyn Feltz and I do. I've decided that two can live more cheaply than one, consequently disregarding the saying, "Change the name without the letter, marry for worse instead of better." Henrietta Fountain is the chief matron in the Veteran's Home at Waupeka, Wisconsin, while Helen Frank, Florence Luton, and Catherine Krems play prominent parts in society as salessmen in New York. You remember that little bushful of "Fay Greer" she needed for girls' vacation school. Not bad! Florence Glennon is head of the speech department at Mississ College after winning the International Contest at Spain.

Dorothy Graff is a governess in Paris to Margaret Heitzinger's little daughter. Margaret is living in Paris with her husband, Rodney Kraeger, who is presenting some of his pictures there. Grace Haka is a woman relief worker in Chicago, and she sure knows how to bring relief. Bernice Hansen is a model in Edna Price's style shop. I don't desire to see some of the latest styles. Evelyn Helmick is a partner of Marjorie Rogers who is specializing in ducks at Plover, Wisconsin. Catherine Hitler is the wife of the banker, Fred Hitler, who finds banking a very useful occupation with a wife around. Isadore Holman has decided to follow in the footsteps of Mrs. R. R. Grindie, that of playing the piano for her husband, Tom Kish, who is band director at Pekonia, Wisconsin. Mildred Hayes is running an orphan asylum. Harry Isherwood and James Leahy are running a barbecue lunch place where Isherwood Hill used to stand. Edward Janowski and Marjorie Pearson (who once agreed to disagree) have decided that two can agree on some things, that of marriage, and Edward didn't need a lantern to see that either. Ed has been doubling for Rudy Vallee. Art Hetzer has popped the question to Ldy the Simons, who refused to tell me more about it, saying "Wait and see" and walked away. Mae Hanna Kaliski and Maurine Larson have gone into partnership. Maurine plays the piano while Mae Hanna dances. Ray Kiskev is taking Will Rogers' place at wise-cracking and he has them roaring all the time. (Toe lions) Rose Kimrowski is taking up work at the convent, and Audrey Kingsland is leader of singing in St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church in New York over 2,500 choir members. Irmu Kenney is portraying that "bovish figure" for cigarette ads. They pay large wages. Helen Kitowski has won a popularity contest for being the wittiest at Palm Beach. Louise Kostka is playing the organ over WMAQ, and Bernice Kostek is teaching dancing at Milwaukee Diner, where the "old fogies there absolutely discourage the pleasing pastime." Lorelei Kruis just got married for the third time to Frank Rothrock, having just secured a divorce from John Lemirek, the other unfortunate one being Elmer Larson. Donald Krems has a cabaret in Amherst with Fred Lutz. Jerry Moyer, and Blanche McNamara is the entertainer. Tom Lutz, who we always used to imagine was shy, has proved the falseness of this statement by taking advantage of Leap Year—the victim being George Paukert. Who'd a thunk it? Jeanette Mirell and Philomae Mozaeh are in Ziegfeld Follies. "They Hankered for Hollywood, but they are trapezing, because you can't tell when you'll get a break." Ramona Myslowski is a Shakespearean actress. She has been playing Juliet at the Orpheum. Roy Mittson and Joseph Przyt are big league players and are drawing a salary of $12,000 yearly. Lois McCormick and Lenore Merril are living together because they feel such a friendly interest in each other. Lois is engaged to Malcolm Parks and Lenore is sure he made it in spite when he proposed and evidently sticks to the theory, "You can't see without a light." Oda Miller and Eileen Novak are serving meals in a summer resort where they sell home-made cakes etc. and all you want for your money's worth. Bernice Anderson is running a player piano at Stanley's Place, owned by Stanley Treatoski, as she happens to be his wife, but if he only knew that his best friend, Frank Walter was planning an elopement. But there, that's only supposition and scandal. Ida Newby and Eileen Moss, who are cousins, have joined hands in a partnership, chickens and what nots. Eileen Peterson just couldn't leave Florence Glennon alone to battle with the world, so is assisting her in preparing her declamations. Dorothy Petrone and Genevieve Rupp are running a Sweet Shoppe in Buena Vista. Florence Phillips and Sylvia Peeler are still raising the boys at Plover step around. Sylvia is teaching the essentials of make up. Ray Peer is President of a Bachelors' Society of which Douglas Robertson, Robert Taylor, Victor Stankowski are members. Their motto is "No women allowed" (a loud), so they whisper. Lois Richards and Mildred Powers teach lessons on "How to Get your Man, and when to get rid of him." Leone Sankey, Evelyn Wnuk, and Iris Vaughn are singing on Broadway. They call themselves "The Triangular Trio," and are attempting to revive the old favorites, such as "Old Black Joe," etc.

Otto Schneck and Carl Schmitt are ventriloquists. They imitate the language of birds, consequently cause excitement in the hearts of some of their friends when they whistle in January. Elizabeth Shirek and Edythe Simonis are teachers in the Stevens Point High School. John Slowinski teaches water sports at Robertson Park in Stevens Point. Annie Stephenson gives illustrations on how to have beautiful blonde hair without care or worry, and demonstrates with Frances Wollock as her demonstrator. Vernon Swan-cutt is in the movies engaged with Paramount Pictures. He is the boy friend of America next to Buddy Rogers. Remember how the girls used to fall? Beatrice Tech is engaged to marry Weldon Leahy, who is now the envy of thousands of girls because of his beautiful auburn hair. Regina Trebatoske is a hash-slinger in the Antler Cafe run by Walter Wisniewski. Frances Van Hecke sings in the grand opera in Italy. Joyce Verreaux and Josephine Yach are running a drug store in Waupaca. Helen Weiss has been given back the job at Woolworth's in New York as floor lady and general miniger. Margaret Welch has married her Arch and is living out West where none but the coyotes can disturb. Margaret Werth has a job in the women's department at Montgomery Ward's where she is regarded as a real sales-woman; thanks to McNett. Alfred Zetl plays the harmonica in a minstrel show playing in Chicago, and has scored hits by the dozens. Ray Zimmer has just finished the world's greatest masterpiece. His painting, which was entitled, "School Days," brought me back to the old days when I used to read English Literature. I just picked up the "Tattler" which reminds me of a little incident that occurred the other day. Someone stared at Jean and me and being real inquisitive, inquired, "Are you two twins, by any chance?" "No," I replied, "Not by chance. You have made a mistake or else you have poor eyesight. Nay, master, we are seven."

Jerome Shaurette is engaged to marry Irma Kinney, while Kay Sawyer is promised Irma's position when she resigns. Eileen Sullivan is now residing in Africa, teaching the Africans as a consolation after the death of her husband. Alice Sorenson and Alice Erasol are dancing in a Burlesque show in Milwaukee, and Julian Vladik has accepted a position in teaching love-making with the eyes. Florence Fletcher is a teacher in Plover, and, say, George Kirsling is making orations on "HOW TO CONTROL THE SPEED LAWS." Well, I don't know anything else, and as I am working on a difficult role, I will close.

Sincerely,

JANET ALBAN.

IN the year of 1927, the class of "31" entered High School with an enrollment of 241. The class officers were David Boyer, Charlotte Arwell, and Orville Halverson.

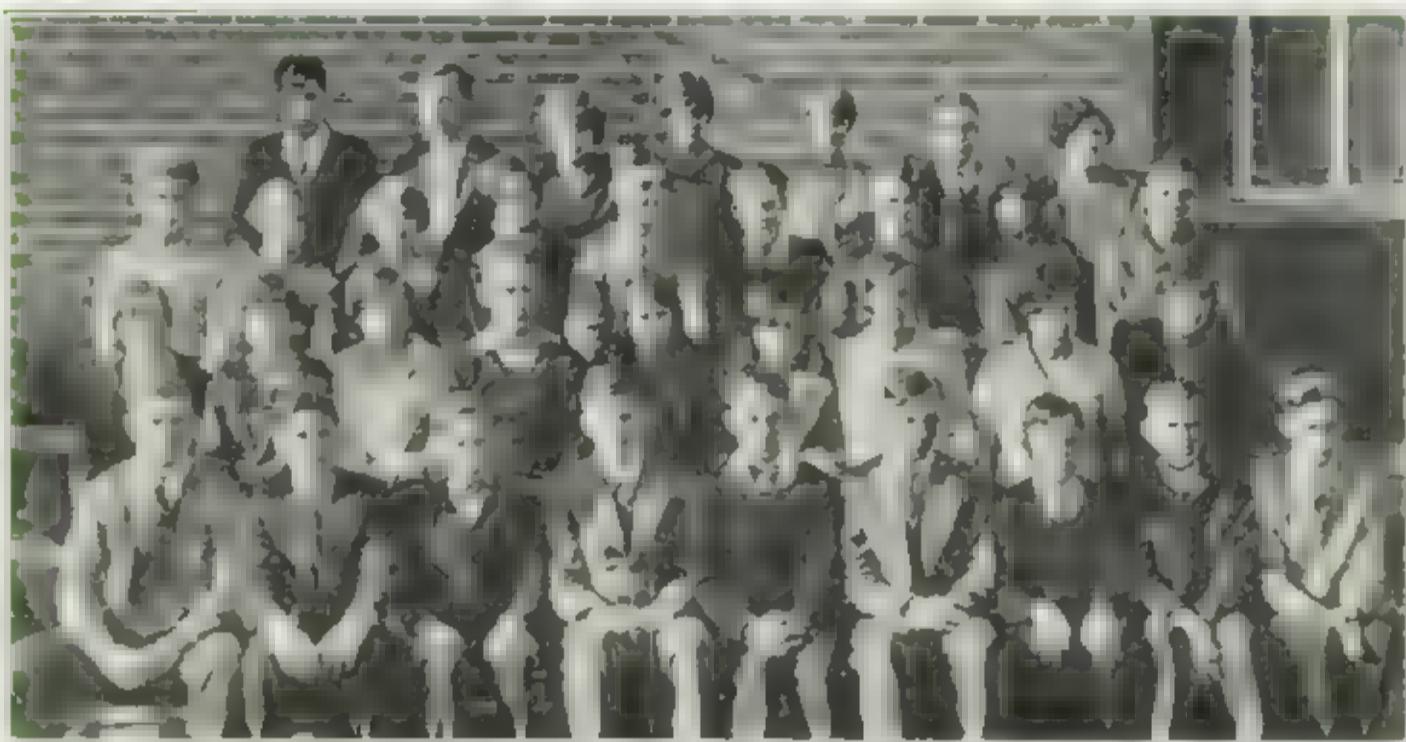

David Boyer with the help of the advisers and committees held a delightful party called the Freshmen Mixer. The class also was represented in Forensics, Athletics, and Scholarship.

In the year 1928 the class was again ready for action at the beginning of the school term. The class officers were Arvie Gordon, Margaret Turrish, Aaron Monastersky, and Ted Strong. The annual party was held January 11 which turned out to be a great success.

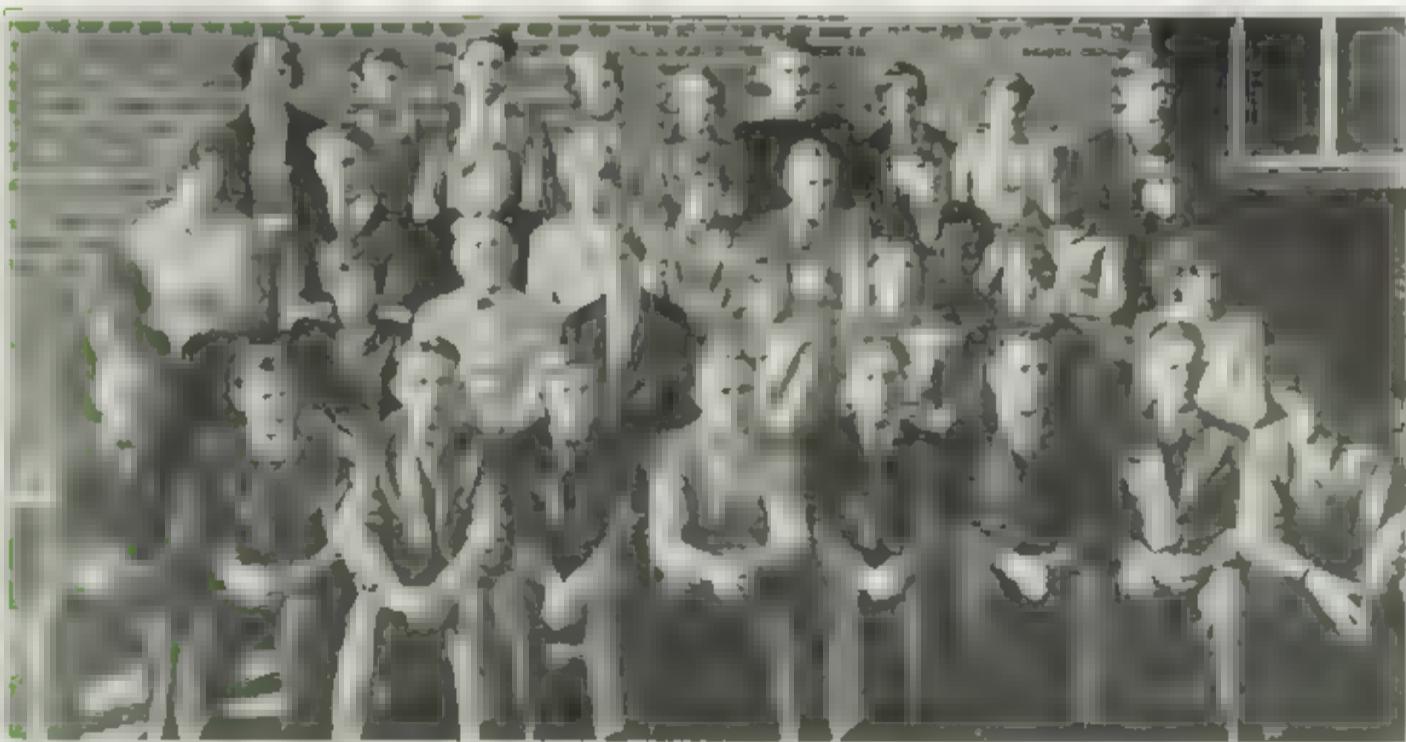

The class as Juniors elected the following officers: Ted Strong, Florence Skinner, Arvie Gordon, and Maxine Smith. The Junior class was the first to adopt the method of purchasing cheaper class rings and pins. Again the class contributed much to the school's activities. On April 25 the prom was held which was one of the most elaborate social affairs ever held in the High School.

IN 1928 the Sophomore Class of "32" entered High School 214 strong. The class officers were Sam Kingston, Stanley Razner, Mary Jane Krembs, and Catherine Crosby. This group as Freshmen under the leadership of Sam Kingston was well represented in Athletics and scholastic work. A Science Club was founded for Freshmen only. A Freshmen party was held and was a great success.

In 1929 the class came back strong. At the Fair and Supper Joseph Glinski won the popularity contest by a wide majority. The class was very well represented in all forms of athletics and always had the most pupils on the honor roll. In a basketball tournament held just before the basketball team was picked the Sophs made a good showing. The Sophomores were also well represented on the High School basketball team. In the girls' basketball tournament a fighting Sophomore team placed second. They have an excellent chance next year. The class, as students, were very hard workers and took numerous honors as scholars. The pilots for the 1929 class were Donald Unferth, James Nelson, Joseph Glinski, and Barbara Joy.

The class party was one of the big successes of the year. The grand march was led by Madeline Siebert and Harry Somers.

The Freshmen entered into many High School activities having had members on the B Squad in Football, on the Fresh Bisketball team and on the Trick Squad. The Fresh girls also were high in activities, having a scrappy little basketball team. Not only in athletics do the Freshmen show up but also in scholarship. They were headed only by the Sophomores in having the best percentage on the honor roll.

THE National Honor Society was the first club of its kind ever organized in the Emerson High School. It was composed of those students who have held high standings during the four years of their High School career and who have taken part in a certain per cent of school activities.

The object of the National Honor Society is to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate the desire of all students of the Freshman, Sophomore, and Junior classes to render service, to make the lower classmen fit for worthy leadership and to encourage the development of characters of students.

One of the ways in which they carried out this work was by composing a hand book to guide the students of less experience in their studies.

Shortly after this club was organized, the members were seen wearing gold pins of which they were very proud.

This group of industrious boys and girls have faithfully plodded on and have aroused the interest of many students to strive hard to reach the Honor Roll. Did you notice the list of Honor Roll students increase? Let's give this group credit of it.

The Band

THIS is the fourth year of the existence of the S. P. H. band. The band instruction was again offered this year as a regular high school course under the direction of Mr. R. R. Grindle. The band ranks in class A which is the highest division recognized by the band association, and although the members were not so fortunate as to be hosts and hostesses to the annual Wisconsin High School Band Tournament this year, as they were in the previous year, they were most fortunate to take part in the tournament in Milwaukee. This is the fourth year that the band has taken part in the state tournament.

The band added much color, pep, and cheer to the football and basketball games at which they were always present. The students fully enjoyed band assemblies, and especially the march that sent the blood rushing through the veins of every full-blooded Emerson student. This march is called the Pep Squad Parade. During the second semester the band broadcasted over WLBC every Tuesday morning.

The band has been making steady progress and it deserves much praise.

THE Girls' Junior and Senior Glee Clubs were combined into one large organization this year. It is a well organized group under the supervision of Miss Bard. They have made it a practice to meet every Thursday after school.

The members appeared in school assemblies, and put on a program for The Woman's Club in March, where they won much praise from prominent women of the city. They did their share in the commencement music and were heard over WIBL. Oh, we must not forget about this group of warblers caroling through the halls the Friday before Christmas, thus helping to carry out the old Christmas spirit. They also were seen and heard in the Christmas play, Fiat Lux.

It is indeed a worth while year for this promising group.

Mixed Chorus

CHARLOTTE BARD - - - - - Director

STILL another new organization is the mixed chorus. It has a very large membership—about fifty in all. The members are Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors.

A short time after school was opened in September, Miss Bard made an announcement regarding plans for a Boys' Glee Club and for those interested to meet at a certain hour in her room. All went well until the appointed hour when only a very, very few boys showed up. Then she made the decision that there would be no Boys' Glee Club and, feeling that the boys should partake in some sort of warbling, decided that a mixed chorus would be just the thing. The response to this was better. No one can imagine what the attraction was—maybe the girls? Well, anyway this organization has turned out to be a fine one.

Can you remember hearing this group in an assembly? They are good.

A SHORT time after school was opened, a group of peppy girls organized a club called the Girls' Pep Club. These girls were interested in promoting real pep assemblies and in arousing pep in not only athletic contests but also in band concerts, in debates, and all other activities of the school.

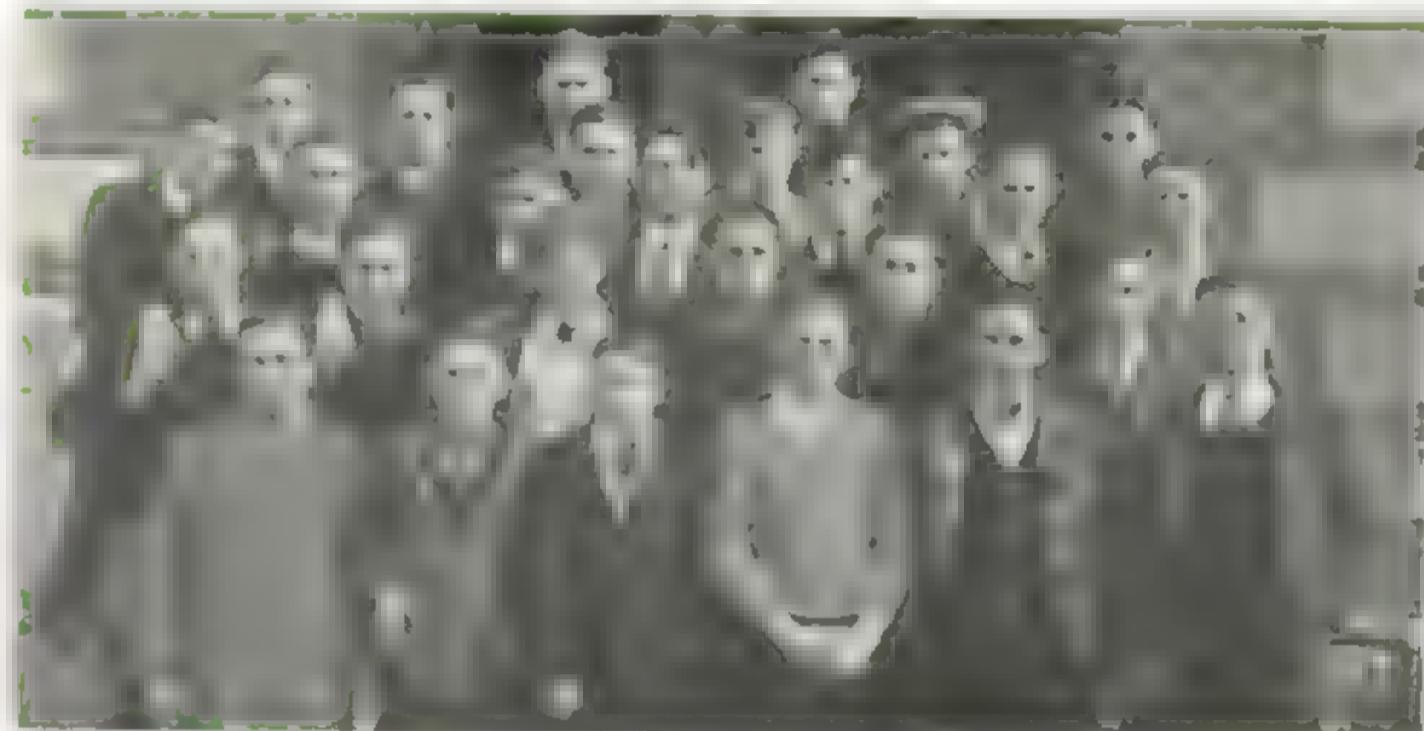

This club started with twenty charter members and they worked so faithfully and made such a worth while organization that many girls became interested in the club. As a result, in a few months time, the whole school was watching the initiation that a group of mostly Junior girls was getting. Perhaps you can remember Mary Finch walking around school with her head down or Barbara Joy carrying an alarm clock to her classes.

These Pep Club girls were always seen in their red and black suits on the foot-ball field, at band concerts, at debates, and at basketball games cheering for their school. Could you forget the cheer-leading team consisting of "Kay" Sawyer, "Sis" Atwell, and Edna Crocker which always roused the spirit of this wonderful school of ours?

The Girls' Pep Club was not only interested in the happy side of school life, but it also was on a constant watch for those students and teachers, who could not take part or enjoy the activities because of Mr. Sickness visiting them. These were sure to be remembered by the group with some little token.

One of the outstanding things that this group did was to present the school with the American Flag that has become an inseparable part of the stage and auditorium.

It is surely safe to say that these girls have done their work well.

THE D. O. P. E., which has always been so successful in the past years, had a hard struggle getting started. Maybe the boys were lazy, we hope not, but after a challenge from the Girls' Pep Club, who were beginning to think the D. O. P. E. was going to be a flop, they were up on their toes and at it again.

Their chief work consisted of promoting pep assemblies and the girls must confess the boys could put on a good assembly if they tried. They got many a laugh out of the sober Senior and the wondering Freshman, who didn't know what it was all about.

The President called regular meetings, whenever he felt like it. At the meetings the boys planned their assemblies, and discussed the activities of the school.

The members sold Eskimo Pies at basketball games during the halves in order to swell their treasury and to prevent the nearly exhausted crowd from straining their vocal chords.

Roger Coleman held most of the pep for the entire club, but nevertheless, the students agree that it was a good, healthy organization. At least it was a rest from the constant using of one's brain power and will-power.

THE Science Club is the most enthusiastic group of the lower classmen. The group was one of the first to be organized this year. It was under the direction of Mr. Vaughn.

The aim of the organization is to promote more interest in science and to make it a little more humorous by means of educational pleasure such as scientific plays, reports and debates given by the members. One of the plays was "Playing with Fire."

Near the beginning of the second semester the charter members held an initiation for about ten new members, thus increasing the membership to about forty students.

The meetings held every other Wednesday had very good attendance. Prominent men interested in Science came to their meetings and visitors gave science talks and performed experiments.

The club had few social hours and on the whole the work was immensely enjoyed by those who took part.

HERE is another newly organized club this year—the Mathematics Club. This is an honorary society for only those upper classmen who possess an exceptional ability and interest in hard work—or, in other words, Mathematics.

The purpose of this organization is to promote interest in mathematics and to bring out the practical and enjoyable parts of this subject, besides broadening the personal knowledge of its members by such topics as History of Mathematics and Mathematics, Short Methods, Slide Rule, Astronomy, Algebraic and Geometric Fallacies, Tricky Puzzles, Magic Squares and Circles, Complicated Proofs and so on through the line that any one of its members will gladly share with you if you so much as mention it.

No, of course, this club does not work all the time. It has, in remembrance of its good times, a few Mathematic Puzzles, a Box Social, and one whooping glorious sleigh ride.

In the latter part of 1930 it would not have been difficult to find the members of this fine organization making articles to be used in their work such as they did in kindergarten.

The members have found this club very interesting and hope that it will be continued next year.

THE Radio Club, an organization devoted to the study of radio principles and apparatus, which was started last year, was re-organized again this year by Mr. McCallen. All the members constructed simple receiving sets and studied the principles of them as they went along. An amateur short-wave receiver and a transmitter were also constructed and a license for their operation was obtained.

Meetings were held every Thursday evening with a regular business meeting every other week. At each business meeting a talk on some subject of importance to radio was given by a member who illustrated his talk with simple experiments.

As radio is a very important branch of both experimental and practical science, the club attracted much attention throughout school.

THE Bookfellows was one of the last clubs to be organized in the year of 1929. This club with somewhat the same purpose as the world-wide known Book-of-the-Month Club was started under the supervision of our Principal, Joseph Kraus.

Mr. Kraus, having received several requests for the permission to organize a club similar to the Bookfellows of the previous year, searched the Senior Class for students who were interested in reading. He managed to get only a small group together, as he said it would be a serious club, not a social club. At the first meeting the members decided it would be better to have a larger membership and therefore each member brought a friend who was interested in work of this type. The club then consisted of Juniors and Seniors.

This club met twice a month at the school and at these meetings reports were given on books that were bought by the club and also some that were rented from the library. The members chose a wide range of types of books and so the members became acquainted with many different authors and found the different types, such as classic, ancient, and modern, very amusing and interesting. All in all, the members feel that it was a very worth while club.

AMONG the newly organized clubs of this year was the Peace Progress Club. Its purpose was to promote peace, to educate the younger generation in ways and means of establishing universal peace, to abolish war in general, and to find a more satisfactory way to settle all controversies.

The members studied the Kellogg Peace Pact itself, and have found it very interesting. They have also done much research work and have read all the literature on this subject that they have been able to get. They made the practice of meeting once every two weeks under the leadership of Mr. Kraus.

This new club is of a serious nature and deserves to prosper and to remain on the list of the Emerson High School Activities.

The Thalian Players

THE Thalian Players, the Dramatic Club, was open this year to only those students who were really interested in dramatics. This made the group a very selective one of amateur actors. Their aim was to promote interest in all forms of public speaking.

The organization was somewhat different from former years in view of the fact that the club was not divided into groups as it was before but is one organization.

During February a cast was picked for a three act comedy, "She Hankered for Hollywood." This play was given in a public performance in March and it certainly proved the skill of the students as actors.

Thompson, McNett, Kostecki, Held, Martini, Steckel, Copps, Stenzel, Ryan.

Her Step Husband

The faculty presented Larry E. Johnson's Her Step Husband, a three act comedy drama, at the High School Auditorium on April 3, 1930. The play was directed by Mrs. P. C. Fishleigh.

CAST OF CHARACTERS

Harvey P. Marshall	Mr. E. J. Stenzel
Dr. Gerald Niles (Jerry)	Mr. W. B. McNett
Limpy Lannigan	Mr. B. A. Held
Officer Shea	Mr. F. J. Steckel
Mary Marshall	Miss Rose Martini
Sylvia Allen	Miss Ruth Copps
Miss Emily Paisley (Aunt Emmy)	Miss Florence Kostecki
Florence Ainslee	Miss Irma Thompson
Stella	Miss Margaret Ryan

The entire play took place in Harvey P. Marshall's bungalow at Crestdale, a suburb of New York. The setting for the three acts was in the dining room of the Marshall home.

Mrs. Harvey P. Marshall (Miss Rose Martini) was a day dreamer, and her dreams wandered a step too far when she received news that her aunt, Miss Emily Paisley (Miss Florence Kostecki) was coming to visit her. Borrowed curtains, silver, furniture and everything but a silver mug, which Aunt Emmy had given the baby, completed the beginning of trouble. The hiring of Stella (Miss Margaret Ryan) who loves "Rough-House Willy," the beloved infant, and of Limpy Lannigan (Ben Held) who gets fired as soon as he is hired, starts the fireworks. If Limpy hadn't been fired Harvey P. Marshall (E. J. Stenzel) would not have had to play the butler. Mary Marshall would not have hired a husband over the telephone, who happened to be Jerry Niles, engaged to Florence Ainslee, and who makes his first mistake by kissing Sylvia Allen (Miss Ruth Copps), and finally, the owner of the house, alias James, the butler, would not have almost lost his happy home and baby. Mary promises she'll never, never make believe again, but when she finds her baby she decides to imagine him a duke or a prince or something royal and informs the town of his royal recovery.

This annual feature is a Tattler benefit and the faculty always manages to make the play a huge success.

Marshall, Boyle, G. Atwell, Betlach, Janes, Rosenow, M. Siebert, Tuthill, Crocker, C. Konopacki, Knope, W. Crosby, Van Hecke, Ed Janikowski

She Hankered For Hollywood

THE Dramatic Club presented Frederick G. Johnson's "She Hankered For Hollywood," a movie mad farce in three flickers, at the High School Auditorium on March 20, 1930.

CAST OF CHARACTERS

Jim Hartley	Marlowe Boyle
Hotfoot Jackson	Richard Tuthill
Flossie Flowers	Florence Knope
Henrietta McWhaffle	Edna Crocker
Mrs. Wiggins	Frances Van Hecke
Jack Kenmore	Clarence Konopacki
William Wiggins	Wendel Crosby
Rose	Jeanette Marshall
Dorothy Darling	Georgiana Atwell
T. Augustus Templeton	Ed. Janikowski

The entire play took place in the office and lounge room of Seaville Inn, near Hollywood, California. A synopsis of the play is as follows:

ACT I.

A summer morning. Long shots and outbreaks.

ACT II.

Afternoon of the same day. Screen tests and fade-out.

ACT III.

Evening of the same day. Screen tests and fade-out.

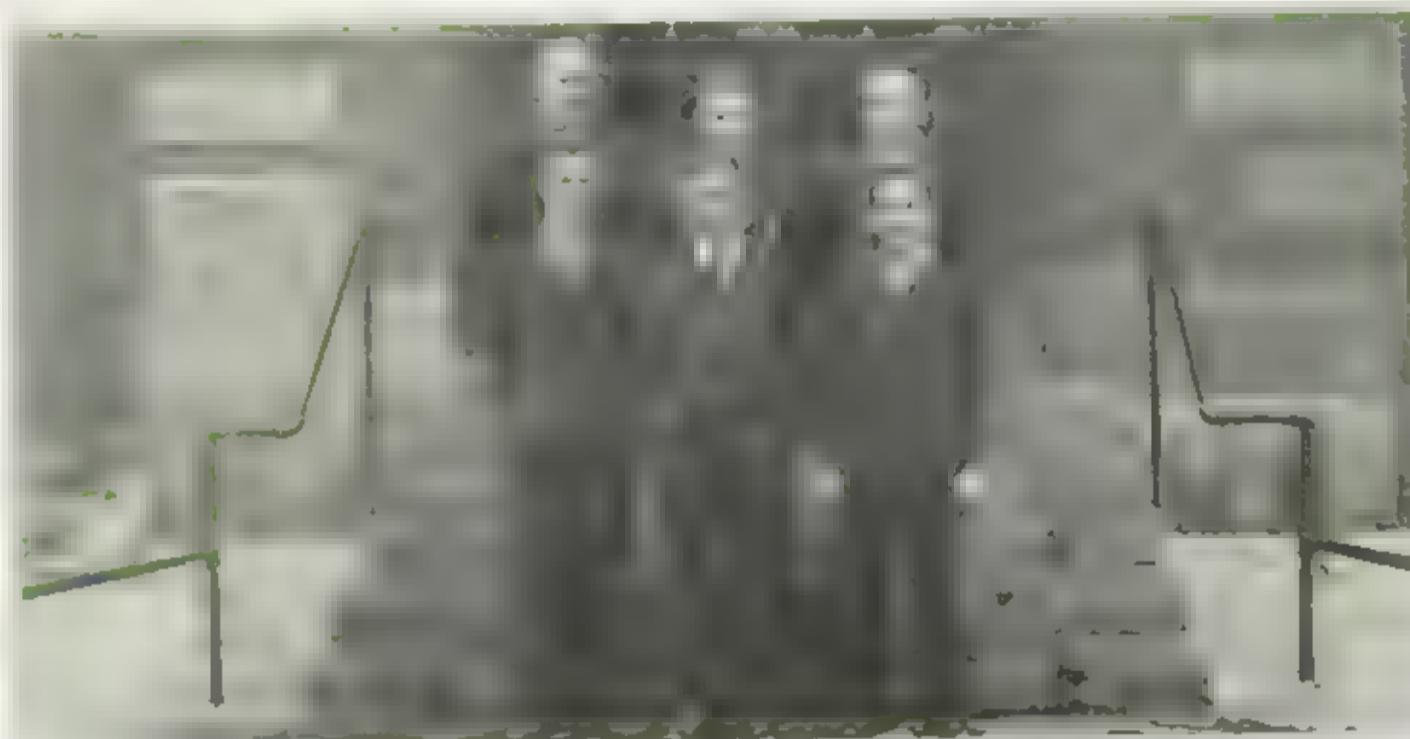

The play was a huge success for the Thalian Players and it also taught the student-body and other town-people that it does not pay to hanker for Hollywood.

The Coaches

ATHLETICS of Stevens Point High School are under the direction of Mr. Harry J. Ringdahl. Mr. Ringdahl began coaching here as assistant to Mr. Hunting. In 1927 he became basketball coach. Coach Ringdahl's teams have always occupied prominent positions in the Valley standings. Last fall Mr. Ringdahl took over the coaching of football. His popularity among the student body, especially the boys, has been a great aid in his building up fine teams.

Assistants to Coach Ringdahl are: Mr. Vaughn, Central State Teachers' College, Football; Mr. McNett, Whitewitter, Football and Track; Mr. Bannach, Central State Teachers' College, Football; Mr. McCallen, Lawerence, Boxing and Wrestling.

The Football Season of 1929

WITH but four lettermen returning, Coach Harry Ringdahl faced the task of molding together an entirely new eleven. About fifty other aspiring youths answered the call for grid candidates. After a few weeks of hard practice the team met the alumni in a practice game. The grids proved to be a little the better and managed to come through on the long end of a 6 to 0 score.

Stevens Point _____ 0 Merrill _____ 34

Merrill opened the football season here September 21 by handing the Red and Black warriors a 34 to 0 beating. Merrill sent a good sized line and an experienced backfield into the game and though their experience showed up during the contest, the large score was due chiefly to Point errors. Though the Pointers showed lack of experience, they performed quite creditably.

Stevens Point _____ 13 Rhinelander 0

The Stevens Point eleven that faced Rhinelander September 28 showed much improvement over the team that lost to Merrill a week before. The Point's first touchdown came as the result of a partially blocked Rhino punt. A. Baker caught the ball and raced over for the score. The second touchdown came in the fourth quarter as the result of a steady drive down the field together with a pass, Unferth to Somers.

Stevens Point

0 Marshfield

0

On the afternoon of October 4th, the football fans of Stevens Point and Marshfield had the opportunity of seeing their teams battle for four quarters to a scoreless tie. Both teams threatened at one time or another during the game but neither had the punch to push the ball over. With but fifteen seconds to play, A. Baker was sent in for the Point. He shot a long pass down the field to Captain Schwartz who was brought down thirty yards away from the goal.

Stevens Point 0 Nekoosa — 7

A blocked punt in the opening quarter enabled Nekoosa to score six minutes after the kickoff and to win 7 to 0. Practically the entire first half was played in Stevens Point territory. The Pointers' attempts to score in the second half were stopped by the superior play of Nekoosa.

Stevens Point 6 Tomahawk — 0

Starting under the defeat handed them a week before by Nekoosa, the Red and Black gridders sent Tomahawk home on the short end of a 6 to 0 score. Their lone touchdown came in the first period, A. Baker carrying the ball over. The second half found Tomahawk vainly trying to tie the score. They opened up an aerial attack but it was successfully smothered by the Point eleven.

Stevens Point 0 Wausau 61

The Point eleven suffered its third defeat of the season at the hands of the strong Cardinal eleven of Wausau. The Pointers' only opportunity to score came early in the first quarter. They gained possession of the ball deep in Wausau territory but lacked sufficient drive to put it over. Though the team fought hard they gradually weakened under the powerful attack of Wausau.

Stevens Point 12 Antigo 42

After Antigo had stacked up a 13 to 0 lead in the first quarter, the Red and Black warriors staged a come back that netted them two touchdowns. Chown scored the first on a clever forward pass play. A few minutes later he carried the ball within a few yards of the goal on a similar play. Unferth dashed off tackle to score. At the half Antigo led 13 to 12. Antigo's second half rally proved too strong for the Pointers, though they did their best to stem the on-rushing tide.

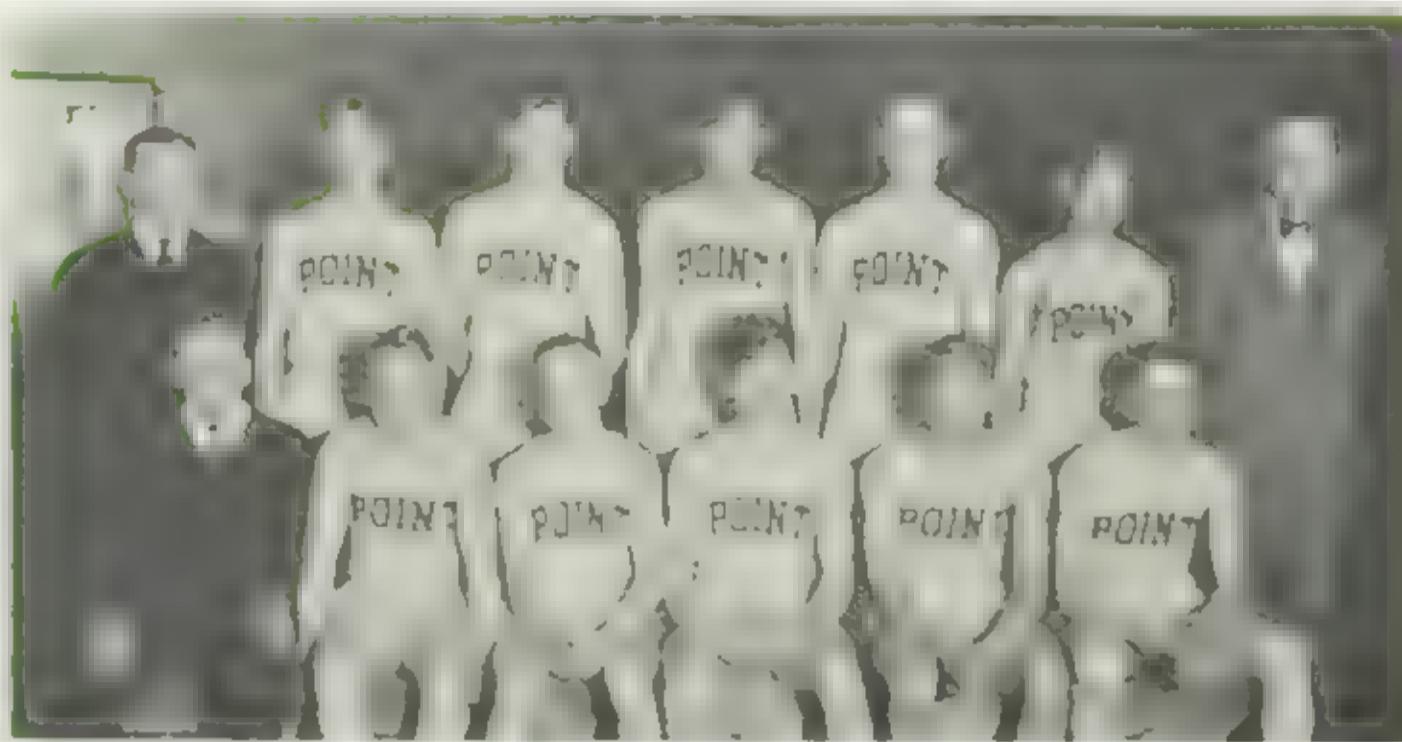

Stevens Point 6 Wisconsin Rapids 58

With everything to gain and nothing to lose, the Red and Black gridders journeyed over to the Rapids to battle their ancient rival in the final game of the season. However the Pointers failed to display the fight so characteristic of Point-Rapids games and were completely out classed. Their lone touchdown came in the second period after a long drive down the field, Unferth carrying the ball over.

The Basketball Season of 1929-30

FEATURED a brilliant offense and an efficient defense, Stevens Point once more finished among the leaders of the conference in basketball, tying for third place in the final standing.

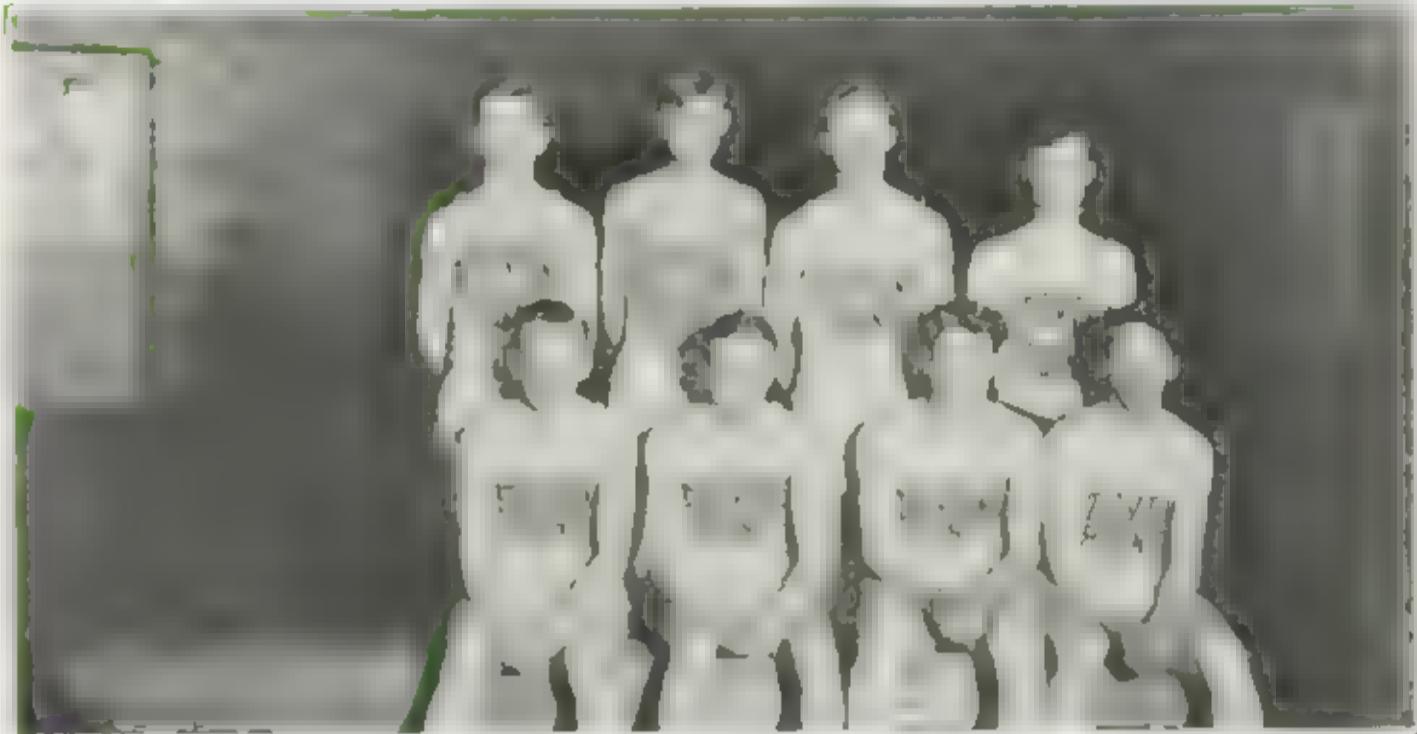

Except Wisconsin Rapids, the Point defeated every team it played at least once. The Pointers lost to the Rapids here but played a tie game at the Rapids.

Performing as it did at the Rapids and also here against Wausau, the team was practically invincible, though in other battles the team displayed a complete reversal of form.

Unferth and Schlice were among the high scorers in the conference. Stevens Point had a high defensive rating as well as an outstanding offensive rating in comparison with other valley teams.

The team had no regular captain but Nolan Gregory served as Honorary Captain during the season. At the regular banquet, Ray Golla, center, was elected captain for the coming season.

The only regular to graduate is William Herrick. Golla, Gregory, Bader, Unferth, Schlice, McDonald, and Tardiff remain as a nucleus for next year's team.

Stevens Point _____ 7 Wautoma _____ 12

The basketball season was ushered into Stevens Point on December 6, when the Red and Black quintet met the highly touted Wautoma team. All of the Wautoma players were veterans of last year's team and their experience proved to be a big help to them. Though the Pointers had many shots at the basket, they made but one field goal.

Stevens Point _____ 14 Tomahawk _____ 12

A field goal by Unferth in the last two minutes of play enabled Stevens Point to win its opening conference game. Eight of their fourteen points were made from the free throw line. The Reds started fast and kept the lead through the game. Unferth was high scorer with five points.

Stevens Point _____ 20 Rhinelander _____ 19

Playing their first out of town game, the Pointers managed to squeeze out a 20 to 19 victory over Rhinelander. Stevens Point stepped out in front at the beginning of the game and led 12 to 7 at the half. The Rhinos tied the count at 12 all but by the end of the third quarter the Reds had again nosed out in front 18 to 17. With but a minute to play and Rhinelander holding a 19 to 18 lead, MacDonald sank a long shot to clinch the game for Stevens Point. Schlice was outstanding with four field goals.

Gregory, Schlicke, Golla, Unferth, Bader.

Stevens Point _____ 17      Alumni _____ 28

After holding the grads scoreless in the opening quarter, the Reds gave way to a deluge of field goals and lost the annual game with the Alumni. The Reds led 2 to 0 at the end of the first quarter as the result of Unferth's field goal. But during the second quarter, the team composed of former local stars nosed out in front and took a 7 to 5 lead. By the end of the third quarter they had increased their lead to 15 to 7. Both teams scored frequently during the final quarter but the lead of the Alumni proved to large for the Reds to overcome. E. hot led the Alumni with five field goals, while Gregory and Unferth each scored three for the Pointers.

Stevens Point _____ 21      Rhinelander _____ 9

Stevens Point won its third conference victory by handing Rhinelander a second beating. The Point started out fast and at the end of the first quarter led 5 to 4. In the second quarter they increased their total to 11 while Rhinelander remained content with 5. The Reds kept on increasing their lead as the game went on and when the final period ended they left the floor a 21 to 9 victor. Gregory led the Pointers with five goals.

Merrick, Polebitski, Tardif, Eckerson, McDonald

Stevens Point 18 Merrill -

Merrill was the fourth team to fall before the Stevens Point's attack. Starting the game with lots of pep and speed the Reds acquired a six point lead before Merrill had scored at all. At half time Stevens Point led 9 to 4. Both teams strengthened during the third quarter, the Pointers getting a field goal while Merrill sank a free toss. In the fourth quarter the Reds stepped away from the tiring Merrill quintet and at the end of the game led 18 to 7. Schlice scored three goals for the Point.

Stevens Point 9 Wisconsin Rapids 11

Stevens Point suffered an off night in their first game with the Rapids and lost a hard fought battle. The Reds failed to score a field goal during the first three quarters of the game, and when they finally did get going in the last half, the lead of the Rapids was too much to overcome. Both teams started out with defensive games and at the end of the first quarter the Rapids led, 3 to 1. In the second quarter the Rapids sent an entirely new team into the game and collected five more points. The fourth quarter began with the Rapids holding a 11 to 1 lead. Gregory started the rally with a field goal. Three more baskets followed in short order and the Rapids led 11 to 8. A free toss by MacDonald brought the Point total to 9 and the game ended shortly after.

Stevens Point 17 Wausau 26

Stevens Point's second defeat of the season came at the hands of the strong Wausau quintet. Wausau jumped into a lead at the start of the game and at the end of the first half were ahead 19 to 5. At the end of the third quarter Wausau led 24 to 9. Though the Reds out classed Wausau in the last quarter, they were unable to overcome the enormous lead. Unferth was high scorer with five baskets.

Stevens Point 22 Marshfield 20

A basket by Golla in the last thirty seconds of play enabled the Reds to down Marshfield. Stevens Point had the upper hand during the first quarter and led 5 to 4. But Marshfield stepped out in front during the second quarter and led 12 to 9. The score was tied at 20 all when Golla got the ball down under the Marshfield basket and tossed it through. Marshfield tried frantically to tie the score during the final seconds but was unsuccessful.

Stevens Point 24 Wisconsin Rapids 24

The Point and the Rapids meeting for the second time, fought out an overtime game to a deadlock. However the game was awarded to the Rapids because they had the most field goals. The lead changed hands frequently during the first period and at half time the Rapids led 14 to 13. Both teams carried the fight on into the third quarter but the Rapids had a little better luck and led 20 to 17. Shortly after the beginning of the last period the Point tied the score and with two minutes to play they went into a 22 to 20 lead. The margin seemed enough to win but with 12 seconds to play the Rapids scored and tied the count. The same story prevailed during the overtime period and the game ended a 24 to 24 tie.

Stevens Point 22 Antigo 25

A rally by Antigo, beginning in the third quarter, spelled doom for the Pointers. The Reds jumped into a lead at the beginning of the game and were in front 9 to 2 at the end of the first quarter. Antigo climbed up a bit during the second quarter and cut down the Pointers' lead to 13 to 9. Aided by the accurate shooting of Javorsky, Antigo went into the lead in the third quarter and nosed out in front in the last period to win. Golla led the Reds with eight points.

Stevens Point 16 Wausau 9

A seven point rally in the last minute and a half of play enabled the Red and Black to gain revenge for a previous defeat at the hands of Wausau. Wausau, though outplayed, held the lead for the first three quarters of the encounter. After four minutes of play in the fourth quarter, the Reds went into the lead. Then the Wausau defense cracked and the Reds scored three goals to win 16 to 9. The former state champions were able to score but one field goal against the Pointers.

Stevens Point 12 Marshfield 34

Weakened by illness and the loss of a regular guard, the Reds lost a one sided game to Marshfield. Led by their scoring ace, Schnell, Marshfield took a 10 to 1 lead during the first quarter and increased it to 19 to 5 at half time. The Pointers weakened during the closing frames and Marshfield proceeded to chalk up a large score.

The District Tournament

STEVENS POINT GAMES

Stevens Point 13 Nekoosa 11

THE opening night of the tournament found Stevens Point paired with the strong Nekoosa quintet, one of the tourney favorites. Nekoosa took the lead at the beginning of the game and held it throughout the opening quarter. In the second quarter Eckerson was sent into the fray and he sank two shots in short order. A Point rally followed and at half time they led 10 to 9. The Reds increased their lead during the third quarter to 13 to 9. The rest of Nekoosa's points were made by their star, Manske, on a long shot, in the fourth quarter.

Score by quarters:

Stevens Point	3	10	13	13
Nekoosa	5	9	9	11

Stevens Point 11 Wautoma 12

Suffering from the effects of a hard game the night before, the Red and Black lost a close game to Wautoma. Wautoma started fast and had a five point lead before the Reds scored. The victors kept out in front during the rest of the half and led 8 to 5. The Pointers closed the gap slightly during the third quarter and had many chances to knot the count, but failed.

Score by quarters:

Stevens Point	1	5	9	11
Wautoma	6	8	11	12

Stevens Point 11 Nekoosa 12

By defeating Amherst, 24 to 8, in a morning game, the Red and Black won the right to meet Nekoosa for third place.

A field goal by Manske in the last minute of play of an overtime period, enabled Nekoosa to nose out Stevens Point and win third place in the district meet. The Point jumped into a five point lead before Nekoosa could score and led 5 to 1 at the end of the quarter. Nekoosa tied the score at the half and went into a one point lead in the third period. The game ended a tie at 10 all. After a minute of the overtime had passed Bader was given a free throw and he made it good. It looked like another win for the Point but Manske's long shot put the Blues in a lead that was enough to win for them.

Score by quarters:

Stevens Point	5	6	8	10	11
Nekoosa	1	6	9	10	12

MINOR SPORTS

With eight letter men returning as a nucleus around which to build a team, Stevens Point looks forward to a fairly successful year in track. The returning veterans are: Schwartz, weights; Swanson, pole vault; Koehl, high jump and shot; Cutler, dashes; Krueger, mile; Kaskey, high jump and javelin; Baker, half mile. Malcolm Parks, Fox Valley hurdle champ, will compete for the Red and Black. The first meet of the season was held here April 12, when Wausau and Marshfield were defeated by the Point.

As in former years, boxing and wrestling have been carried on under the direction of Mr. McCallen. Quite a few took part in these sports and exhibitions were given on different occasions. Ernest Becroft of the wrestling class this year won the high school wrestling title.

Tumbling and mat work was carried on under Mr. Ringdahl's direction. Exhibitions were given on gym night and between halves of basketball games. Klesh and Swancutt were especially good.

Basketball

BASKETBALL is the goal for which every athletically inclined girl strives to reach. Practice is begun immediately after Christmas vacation. Soccer is usually played, too. This year, however, there was not a large enough response.

Although a large number of girls reported for basketball, only a limited number could be accepted. Nineteen Freshmen signed up, thirteen Sophomores, sixteen Juniors and nine Seniors. Every player, according to the I. W. A. A. rules must be examined by Dr. F. A. Krembs, the city physician.

Two court basketball is played, that is with three forwards, one playing center, and three guards. The center dividing line on the court is the foul line. When a team oversteps it the opponent takes the ball out of bounds. Personal fouls are called because of shoving, tripping, overguarding, or any intentional body contact. Two free throws are awarded on fouls. There are also many technical rules in the game.

The official colors of the classes are as follows: Freshmen, green; Sophomores, orange; Juniors, purple; and Seniors, red. The uniforms consist of black suede trunks and jerseys of the respective colors trimmed in white. Sophomores and Seniors wear black ribbon trimmings down the sides of the trunks, and the Freshmen and Juniors white. The class initial is worn in the front of each jersey.

The annual Basketball Tournament was held in the afternoons of March 15, 16, and 17. Quite a few High School students, especially boys, were spectators at the games. One game between each of the four classes was played.

Each team met the other teams in one game. The first day the Juniors won from the Freshmen by the close score of 14 to 13. Both teams missed many free throws. The second day the Sophomores defeated the Juniors by a score of 13 to 9, and the Seniors were victorious over the Freshmen, 22 to 8.

*Top row: Rice, Wolfe, Scribner, Baker, Wysocki
Bottom row: Skinner, Chesney, Sparks, Redding, Vrobel*

The last day the Sophomores beat the Freshmen by the score of 17 to 13, and the Seniors defeated the Juniors, 27 to 2. E. Dumbleton, A. Foerster, and L. Oestrick were high scorers for the Freshmen; I. Brill, E. Grasamkee, and M. J. Kremls for the Sophomores; V. Scribner and F. Skinner for the Juniors; and K. Sawyer, J. Marshall, and E. Crocker for the Seniors.

According to rules, the Seniors received black felt "S" letters as a reward for first place in the tournament. Lineups of the teams were:

FRESHMEN—E. Dumbleton, f; A. Foerster, f; L. Oestrick (C)f; D. Richards, g; E. Bombera, g; B. Gregory, g; M. Wolfe, g.

SOPHOMORES—I. Brill, f; E. Grasamkee, f; B. Joy, (C)g; V. Micheal, g; M. Holman, g; P. Kranzuch, g; G. Podach, f; V. Hanson, f.

JUNIORS—M. Vrobel, f; V. Scribner, f; F. Skinner, f; R. Sparks, (C)g; R. Baker, g; E. Rice, g; D. Redding, g; V. Chesney, g.

SENIORS—K. Sawyer, (C)f; E. Crocker, f; J. Marshall, f; G. Atwell, g; I. Vaughn, g; D. Dumbleton, g; A. Sorenson, g.

Miss Roth decided not to pick an all-tournament team this year as has been done in the past. She said that there was not sufficient competition among the girls and that if an all-tournament team was selected, all the members would be from one class.

Girls' Advanced Gym Class

THIRTEEN athletic girls of the Junior and Senior classes, anxious to progress in gymnastics, reported to Miss Evelyn Roth for an advanced gym class. It was the first in the history of the Stevens Point High School. This class proves that some girls appreciate gym, although you often hear groups of them talking in the halls about the hard and tiresome work.

This class is held on Monday and Wednesday of each week during the seventh period. Every day for two weeks or four days there are different routines carried out.

The advanced gym class has been represented in two school activities this year—the Annual Gym Exhibit and a preliminary game of basketball of the Stevens Point-Tomahawk game.

At the gym exhibit the class put on exhibitions of tumbling, bar work and pyramids. Character dances were also given by members of the class.

The preliminary basketball game started at 7:30 on the night of Friday, December 13. One team, captained by Edna Crocker, wore orange jerseys and were called the Orange. The other team, captained by Georgiana Atwell, wore purple jerseys and were called the Purple. There were the following line-ups:

Purple		Orange
G. Atwell (C)		E. Crocker (C)
J. Marshall	F.	L. Vaughn
V. Scribner	C.	K. Sawyer
H. Kitowski	G.	E. Peterson
B. Rice	G.	G. Haka
		F. Skinner

—S— C— A— M—e— Allen, Fraser
—R— Destrich, Foerster, Bombera, Crummes

Miss Roth and Mr. Ringdahl coached these teams according to boys' rules. The Purple defeated the Orange by a score of 5-3. Atwell made a field goal, while G Atwell, V. Scribner and J. Boyington made free throws for the Purple. E. Crocker made a field goal and K. Sawyer made a free throw for the Orange.

Most of the members of the advanced gym class took part in the Girls' Annual Basketball Tournament representing their respective classes.

Near the middle of March Miss Roth suggested that the girls play tennis in the warm weather. This new game in our High School was received with much enthusiasm. Each girl had a racket and regular tennis teams were organized.

There were hopes of starting a girls' track team, but this proved rather indefinite, because of the lack of time for practice. However, horseback riding was adopted.

Red and white checked rompers are the official uniform of that class and with various colored anklets and regular girls' gym shoes it makes a very picturesque outfit.

Some girls, although they are unable to be in this class, love to "skip" free periods, and watch its members practice.

The encouragement of girls' advanced athletics should be helped and Miss Roth has fine hopes of establishing a similar class of athletic Junior and Senior girls next year. Physical education should be increased one hundred per cent.

The Gym Exhibit

EVERYONE in the city of Stevens Point, large or small, student or adult, looks forward to the Annual Gym Exhibit. Two girls' gym classes, the Advanced Girls' Gym class, and experienced boys participate.

The gym exhibit of this year was held February 27, 1930. The gymnasium was packed to capacity. People were pecking in every nook and corner that it was possible to. Parents, relatives, brothers, sisters, and friends were here to see these fine athletes perform. There was no admission charged and the motto seemed to be "Come early and avoid the rush." Many children of school age were here and they watched it with eager eyes and open mouths. Older people seemed to be just as favorably impressed.

Miss Evelyn Roth, the girls' coach and Harry Ringdahl, boys' coach, trained them for many months in the practice and routine of their acts.

Two girls' gym classes performed in various exercises, in "Cat and Rat," and in relay races. The so-called "high lights" of the program were pyramids and barwork by six of the girls' advanced gym class and tumbling and apparatus work by the boys. Two character dances, Dutch and Old-fashioned, were given by Edna Crocker and Georgiana Atwell.

This exhibit proved what can be accomplished by the boys and girls of average ability.

What We'd Like to Know-

- 1 What will happen when we get to college
- 2 How you'd make a caricature of Weldon Leahy. He can do seven things at once! Oh, well, so could Caesar!
- 3 What Mary Finch sees in Star-gazing.
- 4 What the real mystery is in room 22 on the second floor of the old building.
- 5 Why football captains and senior class presidents are so popular.
- 6 What there is about this school that is so virtuous. In English during a recitation on the oldest English epic, "Beowulf", Frances Van Hecke insisted on calling the monster, Grendel, Grindell, and in Macbeth, McDuff was given the name of McNett. It's a great life if you don't weaken!
- 7 Why Bud Clausen's thoughts run so high. When some one called "Ruth" the other day, Bud looked up with a startled expression on his blank countenance and said, "Good night, have we mind readers in this school?"
- 8 Why they call women the "Unexpected sex". Will someone please inform us as to how we are to tell when Mr. Kraus is entering the room?
- 9 Why Roger Colman can't become class president. All that he needs is the student's consent.
- 10 Why Miss Glennon insists on the seniors studying. They know all there is to know providing they aren't bothered by outside influence, and I think there is a saying about drawing your own conclusions for better success.

Helen K. "Oh, what a strange-looking cow. But why hasn't it any horns?"

Farmer: "Well you see, some cows is born without horns and never has any, and others shed theirs, and some we dehorn, and some breeds ain't supposed to have horns at all. There's lots of reasons why cows ain't got horns, but the big reason why that cow ain't got horns is because she ain't a cow—she's a horse."

In Detroit, so the story goes, two autoists met in an alley too narrow to permit them to pass each other. One of the autoists rose in his car and shouted at the other:

"I never back up for any darn fool."

The other driver quietly put his car in reverse, backed out and replied: "That's all right, I always do."

City Slicker: "Those are wonderful strawberries you have there. Do you use fertilizer on them?"

Farmer: "No, just cream and sugar."

First Barber: "Nasty cut you gave that old gent, Bill."

Second Barber: "Yes, I'm courtin' his 'ousmaid--that's to let her know I can see her Tuesday night."

Teacher: "Edna, what is the function of the stomach?"

Edna: "The function of the stomach is to hold up the petticoat."

Traffic Officer: "Hey, What's the idea? Didn't you hear me whistle to you?"

Miss Ryan: "Certainly, I did, and if you try it again I'll report you."

House Wife: "No, we don't want no books, nor we don't want no calendars. We don't want nothing."

Salesman: "What about a cheap grammar?"

Wife: "What are you looking for, dear?"

Camouflage Artist: "The car, honey. I painted the darn thing an inconspicuous color, and now I can't find it."

Passenger (on big airship): "What was that noise?"

Deck Hand: "We just passed the Dog Star, sir."

She: "What did you call your mother-in-law after you were married?"

He: "The first year I called her 'I Say' but after that we called her 'Grandma'."

Gus H.: "What do you think of Shakespeare's plays?"

Earl Hoeffler: "What team does he coach?"

Book Agent (to farmer): "You ought to buy an encyclopedia now that your boy is going to school."

Mr. Boyle: "Not on your life, let him walk, same as I did."

The following answers were received in the semester exams:

"There are two parts to a sentence, the subject and the predicament."

"To kill a butterfly, pinch its borax."

"Nicotine is such a deadly poison that a drop of it on the tail of a dog will kill a man."

"The water gathers all in one place in a lake which has numerous holes like a sieve," explaining the question, "Where does rain come from?"

Neal R.: "Ted, who has done the most good—Henry Ford or Billy Sunday?"

Ted: "That's easy, Henry Ford."

Neal: "How's that?"

Ted: "Henry has shaken the devil out of more people than Billy Sunday ever can."

"Glen Hoffman, don't you love me any more?"

"Sure I do Florence, I'm just resting."

Jim: "I've got half a mind to get married."

Bud: "If that's all you have, you will."

Rodney K.: "Hello, old man. I haven't seen you for years. What are you doing now?"

John M.: "I'm a lawyer."

Rodney: "Honest?"

John: "I said I was a lawyer. Isn't that enough?"

"Hildegard is a girl who could have married anybody she pleased."

"Then why is she still single?"

"She never pleased anybody."

Roger Coleman says, "If you think that a trust and savings bank is an institution that will trust anybody with its savings—well it ain't."

Mother: "So your teacher asked you who was swallowed by a whale?"

Tom: "Yes, Mother, and she wouldn't take Noah for an answer."

Fisque: "That bird Richleigh must have money."

Bisque: "So must I. Introduce me, will you?"

Bill: "This is the plot of my new story: A midnight scene. Two bandits creep stealthily toward the house. They scale a wall and force open a window. As they slip in the clock strikes one."

Marie: (breathlessly): "Which one?"

Charles Mc.: "Man, that was a grand juggler."

Frank S.: "What! He was the worst I ever saw."

C. M.: "Well maybe he wasn't so clever, but I gave him a bad $5 bill for a trick and he gave me a good one back."

David Weltman opened a new 5- and 10-cent store. His first customer was Walter Baker who bought a toy and gave Dave a dime.

"Excuse me Walt," said Dave, "but dese toys iss 15 cents."

"But I thought this was a 5- and 10-cent store."

"Vell I leave it to you, how much it is, 5 and 10 cents."

Jeanette M.: "I'd like to try on that rose dress in the window."

Clerk: "Sorry, Miss, but that's a lamp-shade."

Mary: "He's so romantic. He never speaks to me without beginning 'Fair Lady'."

John: "Romantic me eye; that bird used to be a street-car conductor."

Prof: "Anything that has temper can get mad."

Stude: "How about a razor?"

Irma: "How do you know Lambert loves you?"

Betty: "You ought to see the way he looks at me when I'm not looking."

Vox: "Has your son forgotten all he learned at college?"

Pop: "I certainly hope so. He can't make a living necking, that's sure!"

Mrs. Held: "Is there any hope for my husband, Doctor?"

Doc: "I can't say, Madam. What are you hoping for?"

Millie: "I've had plenty of handsome men at my feet."

Billie: "Yeah? I've had lots of trouble with my dogs, too."

Jimson: "Ah; just going out?"

Jameson: "Yes, I'm going out to look over my library."

Jimson: "Library?"

Jameson: "Yes, I go around and visit my friends now and then, and look at my books, and often I pick up an umbrella or two of mine."

Doctor: "What you need, Mrs. Riley, is a regular dose of iron."

Washerwoman: "Sure an' don't I get a regular dose of iron every day of me life, Doctor?"

Johnson: "Yes, Bill and me are in partnership, but we carry entirely different goods."

Swanson: "Explain yourself."

Johnson: "Well, you see, Bill goes around and sells a stove polish that leaves stain on the fingers, and I go around next day with the only kind of cleaner that will take it off."

Waiter: "Did you have coffee or chocolate?"

Customer: "I'm not sure, but it tasted like paste."

Waiter: "That was the coffee. Our chocolate tastes like glue."

Bill: "Watchu lookin' at?"

Bud: "That sign."

Bill: "Whazzit say?"

Bud: "Ladies Ready to Wear Clothes."

Bill: "Well it's dern near time, if you ask me."

Jim T.: "What is a glass snake?"

Bud C.: "A snake seen by a drunkard when enjoying a glass."

Roger Coleman claims to be a descendant of Adam and Eve.

Mr. Kraus: (After Christmas vacation) "Well I see we are all back."

Smart Frosh: "No, Sir, I'm part front."

Mr. Steckel. "Doesn't it give you a luxurious feeling to lie in bed and ring for your maid?"

Mr. Held: "Why, have you a maid now?"

Mr. Steckel: "No, but I have a bell."

"You can take your finger off that leak in the pipe now, Father."

"Thank heavens, is the plumber here at last?"

"No—the house is on fire."

Anxious Old Lady (on river steamer): "I say, my good man, is this boat going up or down?"

Pilot: "Well, she's a leaky old tub, ma'am, so I should not wonder if we was going down. Then the b'ilers ain't none too good, so she might go up."

Rachel: "Is Abie good looking?"

Tilie: "Well, he was until he got his nose caught in his fadder's cash register."

Sam K.: "Did you hear the story of the dirty window?"

Clell S.: "No, I haven't."

Sam: "Well, never mind, you couldn't see through it anyhow."

"Why does Florence call John maple sugar?"

"Because he's a refined sap."

THIS IS DIRT

Getting out this TATTLER is no picnic,
 If we print jokes, people say we are silly,
 If we don't, they say we are too serious.
 If we clip things from other papers,
 WE are too lazy to write them ourselves,
 If we don't, we are stuck on our own stuff.
 If we don't print contributions, we don't appreciate true genius,
 And if we do print them the section is full of junk.
 If we make changes in some other fellow's write up,
 We are too critical—
 If we don't we are asleep.
 Now likely as not some guy will say
 We swiped this from some other paper.
 WE DID.

Don't worry if your jobs are small
 And your rewards are few—
 Remember that the mighty oak
 Was once a nut like you.

Woodsman spare not that tree
 Save not a single bough
 Though in youth it sheltered me
 Coal is fifteen dollars now.

Mary M. Calvert: "I dreamed last night that you proposed to me. What is that a sign of?"

Clarence B.: "That you were dreaming."

We hate to pick on the freshmen again, but we must do it if they insist on calling a "chassis" a naked automobile.

Betty R.: "Why he's the flower of the family."

Margaret: "Yes, he's a blooming idiot."

An Englishman loves his beer and his Bible.

A Scotchman keeps the Sabbath and everything else he can lay his hands on.

An Irishman does not know what he wants, and won't be happy until he gets it.

A Welshman prays on his knees on Sundays, and on everybody else for the rest of the week.

Sign for a used car mart: "Ye Olde Busse Shoppe."

Ad seen in front of a farmhouse: "Ye Olde Fresh Eggs."

Edna C.: "So you don't like to dance?"

Kay Sawyer: "No, it's nothing but hugging set to music."

E. C.: "Well, what's wrong with that?"

K. S.: "The music."

Teacher: "Tom, give me a sentence using the word 'banquets'."

Tom Ringness: "When the band quits we will have some music."

Weldon Leahy: "Just where did the truck hit you?"

Helen Kitowski: "Well, all I can say is that if I had been wearing license plates, one of them would have been smashed."

Little Girl: "What's the new baby at your house, a girl or a boy?"

Disgusted brother: "Aw, it's a girl. I saw them putting powder on it."

Have you heard the new wet song? "The Bottle Cry of Freedom."

Miss Collins: "When I was your age, I could name all the presidents off by heart."

Joe P.: "Yeah, but there was only about ten to remember then."

Father (at 1 a. m.): "Is that young man asleep, Mary?"

Mary Jane: "Hush, Father, he has just asked me to marry him and make him the happiest man in the world."

Father: "I thought so. Wake him up and send him home."

Mrs. B. Held: "My husband is just the most aggravating thing."

Miss Kerr: "Now what?"

Mrs. H: "We argued for three solid hours, and the stubborn thing never opened his mouth."

Ticket Agent: "Change at the junction, sir."

Lyman S.: "Don't be funny, I'll take my change right now."

Chippy: "Are you a friend of the groom?"

Mrs. Hoppen: "I should say not, indeed. I am the bride's mother."

Edna C.: "Would you wear a rented bathing suit?"

Georgiana A.: "It would all depend on where the rent was."

Frank Menzel: "Did your watch stop when you dropped it in the hall?"

Ted M.: "Of course it did. Did you think it would go right on through the floor?"

Mr. McCallen (in physics class): "How long would it take for a stick of wood to disappear?"

Bill Rogers: "It depends on what kind of neighbors you have."

Miss Glennon: "Give a sentence with the word indifferent."

Warren Sprague: "Every night when I get home late, I have to go indifferent."

Teacher: "Hello, is this the weather bureau? How about that shower tonight?"

Voice on phone: "Don't ask us. If you need one take it."

Ben Goldberg: "What are the three greatest mysteries?"

Harris S.: "Love, women and hash."

Aaron M.: "How did you get that black eye?"

Mr. Grindle: "My wife gave me a pair of socks for my birthday."

Bill H.: "Every time I kiss you, it makes me a better man."

Marie B.: "Well you don't have to try to get to heaven in one night."

Justice: "What's wrong with Bill?"

Officer: "He's a camera fiend, yer honor."

Justice: "But you can't arrest a man for taking pictures."

Officer: "It's not that, sir—he takes the cameras."

Grandma: "It says in this paper that the modern young women are abandoning all restrictions. Now mind you Edna, don't let me catch you going out without yours."

Salesgirl: "Here's a lovely sentiment. 'To my Valentine—the only girl I ever loved'."

Bud C.: "Fine. I'll take five—no, six of those please."

Lambert Kluck: "Do you believe kissing is unhealthy?"

Betty Rice: "I've never——."

Lambert: "Never been kissed?"

Betty: "No, never been sick."

Rapidly talking lady (to storekeeper): "How much are lemons? What do you charge for oranges? How deep is the river? When does the next train leave?"

Poetic Grocer: "Two for a nickel, three for a dime, up to your neck, and half past nine."

PROVERBS

Always put off at night what you're going to put on in the morning.

More rubber necks are acquired in the process of copying than a rubber tree ever dreamed of.

Never try to get anything published in "The Tattler." If it is too poor, it won't be considered; if it is good, it will sound too professional.

Mrs. Knope: "But you can't go out in the rain, dear. Your rubbers leak."

Florence: "Oh, that's all right. I have pumps inside of them."

"Red" L.: "Are you married?"

Jeanette M.: "No, I was kicked by a horse."

Miss Sutor: "One of my classes reminds me of a Christmas tree."

Miss Thompson: "How come?"

Miss Sutor: "Assorted nuts."

M. Boyle: "We have historical proof that the Confederate soldiers wore Union suits."

Miss Ryan: "What do we call the inhabitants of Ireland?"

Wendel: "Icemen."

Miss Glennon: "Your recitation reminds me of Quebec."

Malcolm Parks: "Why?"

Miss G.: "Built on a bluff."

James T.: "I'd do anything in my power to prove my love."

Mr. Hoppen: "Would you support her?"

James T.: "I said anything in my power."

Miss Krohn: "Now, think it out, Jim."

Jim T.: "But there's only 45 minutes left."

John Murat: "What time did you leave the party last night?"

"Sappy" Konopacki: "About two minutes after three."

John: "Three o'clock?"

"Sappy": "No, three blondes."

Vilas G.: "Can you tell me what a fish net is made of?"

Victor S.: "A lot of little holes tied together with strings."

Freshman (entering barber shop): "How long before I can get a shave?"

Barber (eyeing him critically): "Oh, about two years."

Wausau and the Point

All evening long the storm of battle, cross the gym floor swept—

All evening long the anxious watcher, o'er the players his vigil kept
O, the anxious upturned faces gleaming whitely thru the light—

O, the countless little prayers, said by the watchers on that night.

One by one, our score mounts upward,

And at last the trumpets blare.

Mr. Ringdahl in his gladness, grabs young Shafton by the hair,

"We have won it, we have won it," shrieked

The madman in his ear.

Almost scalped him in his frenzy

While poor Harris quaked with fear.

Then the band struck up an anthem

While the students crowded round

Till the coach and his young victim

Gradually their senses found.

---

Minister: "What is your worst sin my child?"

M. Powers: "My vanity—I spend hours before my mirror admiring my beauty."

Minister: "That isn't vanity, that's imagination."

Chem. Teacher: "What do you know about nitrates?"

Student: "They're cheaper than day rates."

Eng. IV: "Can you tell me anything about John Milton?"

George K.: "He got married and then wrote 'Paradise Lost,' and when his wife died he wrote 'Paradise Regained.' "

LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Waiter: "Are you Hungary?"

John S.: "Yes, Siam."

Waiter: "Then Russia to the table and I'll Fiji."

John S.: "All right Sweden my coffee and Denmark my bill."

Be true to your teeth or they'll be false to you.

Harold Helm: "Have you a few minutes to spare?"

Wayne Flinter: "Sure."

Harold: "Then you can tell me all you know."

Jeanette Marshall: (looking into the future). "Do you think it is unlucky to be married on a Friday?"

Scotty: (looking into the past). "Certainly, why should Friday be an exception?"

Did you ever notice that a hard-boiled egg is yellow inside?

The Senior class is the best, but a rotten tomato can spoil a whole basket.

Mr. Kraus: "Before I dismiss the class, let me repeat the words of Webster."

Ray Zimmer: "Let's get out, he's starting on the Dictionary."

Helen K.: "Have you any green lipsticks?"

Clerk: "Green lipsticks!"

Helen: "Yes, a railroad man is going to call on me tonight."

A drift of Missouri mules had just arrived, and the new private made the mistake of going too near one. His comrades caught him on the rebound, placed him on a stretcher and started for the hospital. On the way the injured man regained consciousness. He gazed at the sky overhead and felt the swaying motion of the stretcher. Feebly he lowered his shaky hands over the side, to find open space.

"Mah soul," he groaned, "Ah ain't even hit de ground yit."

Wifie: "But dear, I haven't a thing to wear."

Hubby: "That's perfectly all right; we'll use the closed car."

While setting up the stove last Thursday, Roger Coleman came across several words he hadn't used for a long time.

UNCLE IZZY SAYS, TRUE OR FALSE

A man can't live fast and long, too. Go slow.

I have had a perfectly wonderful time. Thank you for the headache tablet.

Run up and see us any time and bring the family. We'd be pleased beyond words.

I think pigs are awfully cute.

Your daughter should go in for grand opera. She has a marvelous voice.

I do not mind at all having the little dear on my lap; it calls up such sweet memories. Yes, his fingers are a bit sticky, perhaps, though I had not noticed it.

Yes, that is a hair on the edge of my plate. Please don't apologize, it is one of my own. Very careless of me.

MURDER

He had choked her—
She was dead—there could be no doubt of that.
He had listened to her dying gasp.
Now she was cold—cold as the hand of death.
Yet in his anger he was not convinced.
Furiously he kicked her.
To his amazement she gasped, stuttered and began to hum softly.

Mr. McCallen: "Wake that fellow next to you."
C. Schmidt: "Wake him yourself, you put him to sleep."

Sam K: "See that chimney over there?"
Gordon: "Yes."
Sam: "It is condemned."
Gordon: "Why?"
Sam: "Too young to smoke."

Mr. Stenzel: "Can you tell me an example of wasted energy?"
Don. Blood: "Telling a hair razing story to bald-headed man."

Roger Coleman: "Another idea of an easy job—garbage collector in Scotland."
Ev. P.: "If you went east, would you go by Buffalo?"
Bernice K.: "Certainly not, I'd go by train."

M. Parks: "What did Sir Walter Raleigh say when he spread his coat for Queen Elizabeth to walk on?"
Lucille Betlach: "Step on it, Lizzie."

Mr. Kraus: "Anyway you look at a pancake it is a complete flop."

"Doc" Crosby: "Do you know the difference between riding in a taxi and riding in a Ford?"

Alice: "I'm afraid not."
"Doc": "Then we'd better take the Ford."

Elizabeth Sherbert: "If a man smashed a clock, would he be convicted of killing time?"

Robert McDonald: "Not if the clock struck first."

Rapids girl: "But I don't know you."
"Red" Leahy: "What you don't know won't hurt you."

A stout matron is just a lovely girl gone to waste.

Jim Richay: "What do you think of our little town?"
"Poots" Baker: "It's the first cemetery I've seen with paved streets and electric lights."

Mr. McCallen: "Describe the mechanism of the steam shovel."
Claude Kitowski: "Don't kid me, you can't carry steam on a shovel."

HOW TO CHOOSE A WIFE

Ahem! and here begins a Tale
 On how to keep yourself from jail
 When some dame comes to you and pleads
 "Oh, Jack, you do such splendid deeds,
 Why don't you ever take me out
 And show me just what you're about?"
 Just take that Dame by the neck
 And kick her off the lower deck
 You ain't got time for such as those
 Turn down your collar and up your toes.
 "Treat 'em rough!" That's my motto
 I tell you I am far from slow!

Don't listen to that sentimental stuff
 Make 'em believe you're awful tough.
 If they insist on having things
 Such as diamond wedding rings;
 Just tell 'em where to jump off at
 And they'll cringe with fear, I'm sure of that!
 But the best policy that I know of
 If you just think that you're in love,
 Is, _____
 Just have your fun, and roll the ball
 And don't have any wife at all! ! !

WHY CHIPPY!—Dorothy Hoppen was informing Chippy Glenski with some choice bits of news, (much to his interest). "Chippy, I heard that you had some new trousers."

Chippy: "Who told you that?"
 Dorothy: "Scouts."
 Chippy: "Aw! He's high-waisted himself!"

Wendell Crosby: "Do you pet?"
 K. S.: "Sure, animals."
 W. C.: "All right, go ahead, I'll be the goat."

THE young man who dresses in good taste has an advantage over the fellow who doesn't. Thus it is to be expected that young men students at the high school of Stevens Point take pride in their appearance. With the education the school gives them, they are all prepared to take up the battle of life.

IN the study of household sanitation there is never a vacation. Your plumber must be constantly studying, constantly experimenting and constantly engaged in research work to make our homes and our cities in which to live. To stop for a single year would be to fall far behind his fellow tradesmen. It is this constant search for better methods, better materials and better understanding of his craft that makes the plumber's service one of the most important and valuable at your command.

Why Not Now?

AN HONESTLY acquired bank account is worth more than its real money value. It gives the owner stability, confidence, self-respect and credit.

These surely lead on to influence and financial success. The hardest time in saving is AT THE START, but it is worth all the effort, at the FINISH. All must learn to save, who would prosper. The earlier the start, the surer the success. Why not open an account with us, not next week or next year—but NOW. 3% on Savings

Co-educational

What could be better than to be finished at my school; and how you will be finished. My students are never out of date or out of dates.

If you don't care to go to class—don't go. If you do, then see a doctor, there must be something wrong.

I place all my graduates. I place them safely on the train, homeward bound

W. Crosby, Pres.
